Orinda Master Plan's Second Hearing Centers on Pine Grove Controversy

Use of the Pine Grove remained a point of controversy Tuesday night when the County Planning Commission held the second public hearing on the Orinda master (or general) plan.

C. E. Johnson, executive vice-president of Pacific Intermountain Express Company, told the commission his company will await the results of Orinda-wide balloting before deciding whether or not to ask rezoning of the 10½-acre site.

THE COMPANY has purchased the property and plans a $750,000 office building.

The Planning Commission's technical staff has recommended the acreage be used for community facilities and the master plan map shows the recommendation.

The commission closed the public hearing after voting four to one for adoption of the plan.

Commissioner Robert S. Elliott of Richmond, who cast the opposing vote, said the adoption should await the results of the Orinda voting on the Pine Grove.

HOWEVER, THE technical staff was instructed to prepare the resolution for adoption at a later meeting. Five votes are necessary for adoption.

Commissioner George W. Honnegger sat as acting chairman in the absence of J. P. Connors. Honnegger was joined in voting for adoption by Commissioners A. W. Young, J. D. DeCosta and Frank R. Beede.

Beede has replaced the recently-resigned L. W. Mehaffey on the board.

The resolution of adoption may be presented next week, according to Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith. He indicated the plan would probably be adopted by the full commission.

THE GENERAL PLAN now embraces over 9000 acres, Griffith said. The staff has recently added the Monte Vista subdivision to the plan at the request of the residents.

James Hupp, chairman of the Orinda Association's Planning Committee, presented copies of the Violich Report to the commissioners Tuesday night.

The report, prepared by Prof. Francis Violich, consultant to the planning committee, recommends use of the Pine Grove for community facilities.

Mrs. Gladys Schwatka said the people of Orinda would like to see the plan adopted as presented by the staff.

She said Prof. Violich also favored adoption of the plan.

HUPP ALSO displayed a scale model of the Crossroads area to illustrate the Violich Report. The model was constructed by Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Luckhart.

The general plan has received approval by Orinda residents. There were only about 15 persons at the public hearing Tuesday night.

The Orinda Association has not officially endorsed the plan and did not do so Tuesday, but the association generally favors it, according to President Robert Boyle.

The plan calls for no change in present residential, or single-family zoning regulations, four additional elementary schools, two high schools, a library of some 6400 square feet and public recreational facilities around school sites, all to serve Orinda's estimated future population of 23,000.

"No change" in present business acreage is another recommendation, with the exception that two small neighborhood shopping areas may be necessary.

Office building zones are recommended in the area immediately north and west of the Interchange, directly across San Pablo Dam Road from the Pine Grove corner.

TWO-STORY garden-type apartments are shown for a small area northwest of the Crossroads. The plan also suggests new roads and connecting links for present roads.

Principal County Planner Griffith emphasized that none of the recommendations should be considered "rigid." He said the plan will serve only as a guide for the commission when zoning matters arise.

Sleepy Hollow's Play Area Seeks More Members

Sleepy Hollow's projected new 54-acre play area came closer to reality with announcement this week by Bud Kocher, membership chairman, that 179 membership subscriptions already have been approved by the Board of Directors of the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association, a non-profit corporation.

It is anticipated that membership will be closed at 300, Kocher said.

Announcement was also made at the monthly board meeting May 19 by President Ernie Starkman that membership applications are now open to those living in other areas, and that Orindans who wished to assure themselves of a membership should make application immediately.

FINAL PLANS for the central area were approved at the meeting, and final designs for the swimming pool were reviewed.

These plans call for a pool 82½ by 67 feet, the standard for a 25-meter Olympic pool.

Preliminary designs for change rooms, canteen, wading pool, filters, pumps, water fountains, lights, parking facilities, concrete decking, fencing and road approach were reviewed.

PRESIDENT Starkman and Secretary Dode Hall were authorized to accept title to the land on June 1 and to proceed with the building program immediately thereafter.

The decision to admit non-residents of Sleepy Hollow was arrived at after statistics revealed that the pool accommodations will be adequate to handle more members than the area of Sleepy Hollw encompasses.

Permission has been granted by the Corporation Commission to sell 350 proprietary memberships.

Copies of the articles and by-laws of the new corporation are available for new applicants. Applicants should contact R. L. "Bud" Kocher, CL 4-3235.

Traffic Detours To Be Lessened Soon on Highway

The main stretch of Moraga Highway between Glorietta Boulevard and Moraga townsite should be reopened to traffic by next week, according to county road officials.

County Public Works Director Victor Sauer said closure of much of the road had been forced by grading and drainage work, involving culvert work on small creek crossings, replacing and enlarging old culverts and realigning an upper tributary of San Leandro Creek where it borders the highway above Moraga Del Rey.

THE MAJOR BOX structure culvert which has caused the longer detour via Valley View Drive and Lost Valley is just about completed, and that detour should be eliminated by next week, officials said.

Work on a sewer main to serve Local Improvement District 31 along the southwest side of the highway has forced temporary closing of the road between Glorietta Boulevard and Valley View Drive, but that work is just about finished, too, according to sanitary district officials.

The sewer main was laid in advance of major road improvement to avoid the necessity of tearing up the highway after the highway widening and resurfacing is completed.

THE HIGHWAY IS being widened from the present 22 to 26-foot roadway to a uniform improved width of 40 feet.

The finished job will have two 12-foot lanes for two-way travel, and eight-foot improved shoulders for off-highway parking and pull-out space.

September 21 is the contract completion date for the $280,577 highway improvement job. O. C. Jones is the contractor. The project is part of the county road bond projects.

Sauer said residents are being subjected to some heavier inconvenience now to speed up the entire job and added that a slide condition on the Moraga side of the hill crest had caused some trouble.

WITH MUCH OF the culvert, drainage and grading work done, however, the main part of the project will be reopened to traffic soon and vehicles will use the highway while construction work continues, officials stated.

It was pointed out that it may be necessary to employ the Glorietta Beulevard-Orchard Road detour at various times to allow correction of sub-drainage problems.

The highway between Valley View and Glorietta will have to be widened along the creek bank, necessitating the laying of an underground six-inch drainage line virtually all the way from the summit to Glorietta Boulevard, the officials explained.

WITH AID OF HELICOPTER, the first local batch of the Armed Forces Reserve commemorative stamps were sold last Sunday to Lieut. Commander George L. Mission Accomplished – Helicopter Crew Braves Wires, Obtains Stamps

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Despite high-tension wires and the 35-foot spread of the rotors (blades) of a Navy helicopter Lieut. Commander George L. Stanton of 228 Ivy Drive, Orinda, is today the proud owner of the first two blocks of Armed Forces Reserve commemorative stamps sold in Orinda.

Take it from Stanton—that statement isn't a mixed metaphor. It's a summary of what actually happened last Sunday.

In connection with the issuance of the 3-cent commemorative stamp, Stanton, president of the Oakland Naval Air Station Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, arranged for a seemingly routine (although unique) helicopter "stunt."

THE IDEA was that he would fly by helicopter to Oakland, buy stamps there, and then fly to Orinda, where he would purchase two blocks of 50 stamps each from Assistant Orinda Postmaster Edward J. Kuenzli.

Everything was carefully prearranged, with the Oakland landing scheduled for 9:30 a.m. and the Orinda landing scheduled for between 10 and 10:15 a.m.

But here's what happened, as recounted by Stanton as he triumphantly waved the sheets of commemorative stamps:

"With Lieut. Robert M. Greer piloting, we took off from the Oakland Naval Air Station. We reached the Oakland Post Office on time, but because the building and wires were too near the rotors, we couldn't land on the adjacent lawn, as had been announced.

"SO WE WENT to a lot a block and a half down, and landed on the lawn near the Alameda County Courthouse.

"We took off from there about 10 a.m. and would have reached Orinda in about five minutes—except that we developed engine trouble. We made it to the base all right, transferred to another helicopter and continued to Orinda.

"When we got to Orinda about 10:45 a.m., we circled for a few minutes, looking for a suitable landing place. We had originally planned to land at the parking lot next to the Orinda Post Office, but we couldn't because of the high-tension wires and the 35-foot spread of the rotors.

"SO WE LANDED on one of the dirt 'islands' of the Interchange cloverleaf across from the Post Office."

In addition to Assistant Postmaster Kuenzli, about 100 Orindans, including many youngsters, were on hand to greet the space-conquerors.

After the stamps had been sold and the small-fry had inspected the Navy model HUP-2 helicopter, Greer and Nulton flew back to the Oakland base. Stanton and Chief Photographer's Mate Jim Hourigan, who had also come along on the trip, erturned to the base by auto.

"WE DIDN'T WANT to take a chance with a full load, because of those high-tension wires," Stanton explains.

At the start of its return flight to the base, the helicopter flew west for a few hundred feet only a few feet above Mt. Diablo Boulevard, below more wires. Then the helicopter cleared out from under the wires and soared into the wild blue yonder.

And Lieut. Commander George L. Stanton was able to report:

"Mission accomplished."

Debate Continues On Cummings Recall

Conflicting claims continued this week to mark the disput revolving around the recall movement against Supervisor H. L. (Jack) Cummings.

"Requests for recall petitions have even come from Crockett, Mr. Cummings' home town, and have been particularly heavy in the San Ramon Valley, at the other end of the district," the latest press release of the Citizens for Representative Government stated.

AT THE SAME time the Oak Springs Homes Association in Orinda announced its unanimous "disapproval and opposition" to the recall campaign, and President Robert Boyle of the Orinda Association said, "The Orinda Association has no part in and does not intend to take any part in the recall movement."

The Citizens for Representative Government, listing its mail address as Box 221, Alamo, reported, "Plans for grass-roots selection of a candidate to be backed by Citizens for Representative Government are being formulated."

Without ascribing the press release statements to any individual, the recall group added:

"ONE METHOD seems to be meeting with general approval. This plan calls for each person interested in being chosen as CRG candidate to present his aims and qualifications both in statements to the newspapers and in a public meeting.

"As in previous successful grass-roots candidate selections, in order to be considered at all, a potential candidate would have to promise to support whoever was chosen. All those who had signed recall petitions would be eligible to vote (on selection of a candidate). Balloting would be conducted by mail because of the large numbers involved.

"Your comments and suggestions on this plan are invited. Please address them to CRG, Box 221, Alamo, Calif."

THE OAK SPRINGS Homes Association opposition to the recall movement was voted at a membership meeting May 9 at the Oak Springs clubhouse. President Frederic A. Sawyer wrote to Cummings, informing him of the action.

In his letter, Sawyer stated:

"We are cognizant of the various and controversial problems of your office which you are called upon to resolve and we feel your decisions have been made upon basis of best interest and welfare of the people of Contra Costa County.

"Furthermore, we feel that for the past 22 years you have served your district and Contra Costa County honestly and capably."

"Wholehearted" support and assistance in the fight against recall was offered by the Oak Springs group.

BOYLE, after stressing the non-participation of the Orinda Association in the recall movement, said:

"I personally feel that a more direct liaison with our supervisor would accomplish our desired results.

"I believe that if Cummings is made aware of the sentiments of the people regarding any controversy, and if all the facts are presented to him, he will make an effort to work things out satisfactorily."

THE CRG press release stated:

"People from all parts of our district are working together toward the common purpose of restoration of representative government to District 2. Requests for recall petitions have even come from Crockett, Mr. Cummings' home town, and have been particularly heavy in the San Ramon Valley, at the other end of the district.

"The cooperation shown by people from all areas is a gratifying sign that the district has become a unit working toward a common goal.

"That builders, too, are aware that something is wrong with our representation in Martinez was strikingly illustrated by the statements of the first vice-president of the Central Contra Costa Builders Exchange (Les Iford). At their monthly meeting last week he said: "The criticism against the board is largely well-based. The members don't seem to make decisions on what is right or wrong, or on factual analysis, but on political expediency. We have so much friction because there is no public confidence in the governing body'."

All Polio Shots In County Stopped For School Year

"No further polio shots will be given during this school term except in Rodeo where first injections are yet to be completed," announced Dr. Henrik Blum, county health officer.

He further stated, "The day by day change in promised availability of vaccine has given the schools, the volunteer physicians and helpers and the health department an impossible Hop, Skip and Dance."

DR. BLUM WENT ON to say, "As the school years comes to a close, the schools have even more difficulty trying to cope with the unpredictable polio schedule changes.

"Before the close of school, parents of first and second graders will get an announcement of when and where future immunizations will be available and volunteer physicians and helpers will be contacted."

In concluding, Dr. Blum announced, "There is no way of predicting when material for second shots will arrive and no commercial vaccine to private physicians can be anticipated in the near future."

IT WAS PREVIOUSLY hoped that the second injection of polio vaccine, for those first and second grade children who received the first injection in the schools in April, would be given next week.

Because of the delay in receiving vaccine, it was then planned to give these second injections in the schools on May 31 and June 1, providing vaccine was received in time, county health officials reported.

All county youngsters who received parental consent have now been given their first vaccine injection.

RUMORED REPORT that the government had pronounced all serum except that produced by the Cutter Laboratory to be safe, had not yet been received by the county health department.

Cutter was one of six manufacturers licensed to produce the Salk vaccine. In all, Cutter had released nine lots, two of which allegedly caused polio in 60 cases of persons inoculated with it.

THE SERUM which was used in Contra Costa County was that produced by Eli Lilly Company.

The county health department is now waiting for word from Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele on when more Salk vaccine will be released for distribution.

Karl E. Schevill, Catherine Schwarck Win Seats on Orinda District Board

Karl E. Schevill polled 509 votes, more than any other candidate, to win one of the two seats on the Orinda School District board of trustees in Friday's election.

Incumbent Catherine Schwarck received 460 votes to retain the other board position.

UNSEATED WAS Incumbent Frank J. Cayting, who polled 273. Frank E. Shirey received 183 votes.

About 28 per cent of the 5180 registered voters cast ballots in Friday's election in Orinda.

Schevill, a member of the staff of the Department of Education at the University of California, lives at 54 Stanton Avenue.

Mrs. Schwarck has served four years on the board as clerk and personnel representative. She lives at 35 Via Hermosa.

SCHEVILL AND MRS. Schwarck will begin three year terms on the board July 1.

They will join Seaver A. Ballard, Ritchie C. Smith and Edgar B. Stewart on the board.

There were five write-in votes in Friday's election. Charles Blue received four and Louis Ambler, one, for the Orinda School District board.

Orinda voters, in electing a new member to the board and unseating an incumbent, were unique in this area as other incumbents in Lafayette, Moraga and Walnut Creek were reelected.

ORINDA'S VOTING on the Acalanes High School District trustees and on the high school district's loan proposal was in line with the other elementary school districts' voting, however.

Here are the Orinda votes on the high school district trustees and the loan proposal:

William B. Freeman, incumbent, 544; Carl Newbury, incumbent, 383; Patrick F. Conway, 262.

LOAN PROPOSAL — Yes, 719; no, 39.

No votes were cast by the eligibles in Orinda Precinct 15 for the East Contra Costa Junior College Ward 2 election, according to the County Superintendent of Schools office.

Edgar Dale ran unopposed for the seat.

Week After Next: Shopping News Every Wednesday!

Starting on June 8, the Sun Shopping News will be issued, dated and distributed each Wednesday, instead of Thursday, as at present.

Reason for this change is to give better service to both advertisers and customers.

More time will thus be allowed for people to familiarize themselves with offers at the various stores.

In order to effect this change, new deadlines will be observed, starting the week after next. They will be as follows:

Display advertising, final deadline — 5 p.m. Monday.

Classified advertising — 10 a.m. Tuesday; "Too Late to Classify," noon Tuesday.

Plan Town Meeting on Pine Grove

The Orinda "Town Meeting" on future use of the Pine Grove was definitely scheduled this week for June 20, 8 p.m., at Orinda School auditorium.

Orinda Association directors, contacted by President Robert Boyle, agreed to the date suggested by the association's Civic Affairs Committee.

Vice-President Frederic A. Sawyer reported that Civic Affairs Chairman Paul Pollaczek is forming a committee to make detailed arrangements for the gathering.

"THE 'TOWN MEETING' will be in the nature of a sendoff for the community-wide balloting to take place shortly thereafter, regarding future use of the Pine Grove," Sawyer stated.

Frans Violich, consultant to the Orinda Planning Committee, and representatives of Pacific Intermountain Express, which plans a $750,000 office headquarters, will speak, according to Sawyer.

"The Planning Committee members will also be present," Sawyer continued.

"We hope for a really big turnout, so that the community can understand what the dispute is all about."

Violich recently recommended that the Pine Grove be used for community center purposes.

BALLOTS ARE TO be mailed to Orindans not later than July 1. Regarding a rumor that ballots may be mailed June 25, Sawyer said:

"The only definite thing so far about the timing of the ballots is that they are to be mailed not later than July 1. The deadline for their return has not yet been decided."

A committee headed by William Thurston is making arrangements for the voting. Another committee, headed by W. W. Lee, is arranging for speakers to appear at neighborhood meetings.

"ALTHOUGH the 'Town Meeting' is being sponsored by the Orinda Association, it will not be a special meeting of either the association board or the Civic Affairs Committee," Sawyer said.

Sawyer added that no decision regarding the Pine Grove will be made at the 'Town Meeting.'

"We contemplate the gathering will be in the nature of a panel discussion," he said.

"Decision about the Pine Grove will be up to the people, in the balloting."

Thurston and Lee will report for their committees at the June 13 Civic Affairs meeting.

PIE's Johnson Calls Violich Report 'Unfair'

Calling the Violich report on the Pine Grove "basically unfair to the people of Orinda," C. E. Johnson, executive vice-president of Pacific Intermountain Express Company, spoke May 18 before the Orinda Rotary Club.

The club also heard James Hupp, chairman of the Orinda Association's Planning Committee.

Hupp asserted PIE's entry into Orinda could set a precedent and allow other such enterprises in the area. He stated the Pine Grove should be kept for community center purposes.

Johnson stated that Francis Violich's recent report "completely ignores the financial implication of full development of the plan for community facilities in the Pine Grove. At present construction costs, Violich has invested for you three quarters of a million dollars in buildings alone."

Johnson also charged his company was not invited to participate in planning a community-wide ballot on the Pine Grove.

Don Golfers Win

On May 6 the Acalanes golfers squeezed out a 14-13 win over the San Mateo High golf team.

ON MAY 9 the Acalanes Dons lost a golf match for the first time this season when the Pleasant Hill Rams outstroked them in league play on the Contra Costa Country Club course.

'Teenager' Contest Winners Will Be Named Tomorrow – Zero Hour 3 P.M.

Tomorrow is the day . . . 3 p.m. is the hour . . . when the hard-working youngsters in The Sun's big "Teenager" prize contest will make their final reports and await the decision of the judges.

Who will be crowned queen or king and receive that coveted check for $250 and who will receive the other grand prizes still remain a mystery.

There were many switches in the lineup during the second period, which closed last Saturday night, and no one can predict the final outcome.

It all depends on thatofbsalzr—f 8-½suPSHRDLUCMFWP——M—C

IT ALL DEPENDS on that final burst of speed and the support of friends, neighbors and relatives in this last desperate quest for those needed subscriptions to The Sun newspapers.

Mike Lobenberg of Lafayette and Noel Jones of Orinda have let no one displace them from the two leading spots so far, but Mike had to fight vigorously last week to retain the top spot.

And there is just a slight difference in votes among the next several contestants. Each is determined to be among the winners when the grand prizes are presented at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

THEN YOUTHFUL DREAMS will come true, consistent effort and enterprise will be rewarded, and one of the most interesting and valuable experiences of their young lives will come to a climax.

Relatives and friends of these ambitious youngsters are invited to be at The Sun office at 1000 Orchard Road in Lafayette to witness the presentation of the awards by Herman Silverman, publisher, at 5 p.m.

Announcement will follow a meeting of the official contest judges, three well-known people of the area, whose decision will be final.

They are Mrs. William Minor, Fred Wagner and Jack Pedder. They will gather following the closing deadline, to go over the contest manager's final tabulation of votes.

FOLLOWING CROWNING of the queen or king, photographs of the seven grand prize winners will be taken for publication in next week's issue.

The final of the weekly awards of a 17-jewel wrist watch also will be made at this time.

Contestants and their parents are asked to check their vote totals (from duplicate ballots issued to them as they made subscription reports) with Mrs. Agnes Baugh, contest manager, if they have not already done so. Otherwise her figures will be considered correct and ballots issued for subscriptions reported during this final week will be added to them.

THERE'S STILL TIME, Mr. or Mrs. Reader, for YOU to play an important part in this race.

Yours might be the deciding subscription which would enable your young favorite to win the prize of his or her desire.

Complete list of youngsters, in order of their relative standings, appears elsewhere in this issue. A call to one of them, or word left at The Sun office, is all that's needed to bring one of them "on the run."

But 3 p.m. tomorrow is the zero hour !

Alley Stop Sign Will Be Replaced

The county has agreed to paint a stop sign on the pavement at the west end of Davis Alley (Vashell Way), according to Horace Breed, chairman of the Orinda Parking District board of commissioners.

Breed said Basil Andrews, traffic engineer with the County Public Works Department, informed him Saturday that the sign would be painted soon.

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce had requested the stop sign be placed after the sign originally painted wore out.

Breed said Andrews also informed the parking board that crosswalk lines would be painted across the road by the Standard Station.

Parking District Board Seeks Answers To Orinda's Parking, Traffic Problems

By DUANE MEYERS

Armed with the survey report by county traffic engineers, the Orinda Parking District board of commissioners has begun to look for solutions to Orinda's traffic problems.

The survey recently completed at the Crossroads was under the direction of Basil Andrews, traffic engineer, and Tom Shreve, assistant.

HERE ARE THE main recommendatians the engineers have presented to the parking district board (Horace Breed, chairman, E. J. Phair and Stan Massie):

1. Parking limits should be changed from two to one hour on both sides of Brookwood Road and on Moraga Highway from Bryant Way to Southwood Drive.

This would shift longer-time parkers to adjacent and less-used blocks and would provide parking closer to their destination for short time parkers now having to park further away, the report states.

2. Develop an off-street commuter parking lot under the power lines between Moraga Highway and Camino Encinas or along the stream between Brookwood Road and the freeway off-ramp.

3. CHANGE THE parking on the north side of Brookwood Road from angle to parallel, keeping the opposite side as angle parking.

This would allow freer traffic flow, the report asserts. (Andrews originally recommended the south side for parallel parking but agreed later with the commissioners that the north side would be parallel, according to Stan Massie).

4. Parking along the southeast side of Moraga Highway from Southwood Drive to a point opposite the underpass should be zoned for a two-hour limit.

The report states the area is now unrestricted and is "adjacent to blocks with two-hour zoning and high usage on Fridays and Saturdays."

Zoning in the recommended manner would add 14 stalls to the two-hour category and would aid the situation "where it's most needed," the report asserts.

According to Massie, the parking district commissioners have already agreed to recommendations 1 and 3 and are studying further the other suggestions.

THE SURVEY REPORT lists several possible areas that could be developed into parking lots, among them the area "under the power lines" (mentioned above) owned by Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Tom Shreve said the lot could "possibly be used for parking without purchase of the land." He estimated the area would hold "roughly 60 cars."

Use of the lot would be mainly by commuters, and employees, Shreve said, since it lies too far from the shopping center to be used by shoppers.

It would be necessary to regrade, pave and stripe the area, Shreve said.

One drawback to its use would be the question of PG&E hesitating to allow parking under the power lines, the parking district board members indicated.

OTHER POTENTIAL lots suggested by the survey include:

1. The vacant lot next to the Blacks Market parking lot. "Although the vacant lot is available for parking, it is presently unpaved and out of serice during the winter months.

"Proper development of the lots, including paving, striping and construction of adequate driveways should be given top priority."

2. The "stubend road" area north of DeLaveaga's Chevron Station.

3. The vacant area at the intersection of Moraga Highway and Northwood Road. Probable cost of this land would be prohibitive, however, the report warns.

4. AN AREA, originally a part of Golden Gate Way along the creek between Brookwood and the freeway off-ramp. Shreve pointed out that the area, which could probably accommodate some 50 cars, "may be the best solution to the commuter parking problem."

He said its location, close to the overcrossing, would be feasible for commuters. Improvement work would have to consist of a bridge across the creek, paving and striping, he said.

The district board is studying the survey report and the recommendations, according to Horace Breed. Informal meetings among the commissioners have been held.

A meeting with a representative from the Michaels-Art Bronze Company of Covington, Ky., is being arranged. The company manufactures parking meters.

ACCORDING TO MASSIE, the meeting will help the board learn more about the feasibility of using parking meters in Orinda.

Basil Andrews, citing the case of Martinez, told the parking board recently that "it is doubtful meters would pay for themselves."

He said Martinez' 479 meters bring in about $38.20 per year per meter and that it costs 19 cents a year to service and collect from the meters.

He reported it takes almost five years for a meter to pay for the initial cost of installation.

New District Has Money Headache To Solve, Too

As is the case with other newly-formed districts, the Orinda Parking District is faced with finance problems.

The district board is composed of Horace Breed, chairman, E. J. Phair and Stan Massie. They serve without salary.

THE DISTRICT can get revenues up to 10 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuaion for land acquisition and 5 cents per hundred for operation and maintenance..

However, the district was formed too late to be placed on this year's tax rolls, according to Don Funk, assistant county auditor.

Thus the district does not have, at present, any money in the treasury.

"That's not an unusual situation for newly-formed districts," Funk pointed out. "It takes at least five months for new districts to begin to get revenue even when listed on the tax rolls."

He added that as soon as the district board adopts a budget, some cash for necessary expenditures could be obtained by issuing warrants.

The warrants could be held by the County Retirement Fund and the district could liquidate the liabilities with the following year's taxes, Funk said.

THE DISTRICT automatically goes on the tax rolls next March, he added.

That the district's funds now and in the future will definitely be limited and small has been pointed out by the commissioners themselves and by Tom McBride, deputy district attorney, who has been advising the board.

Commissioner Massie said the total assessed valuation in the Village and Crossroads business areas embraced by the district is $244,645.

At the district's maximum rate of assessment (10 cents and 5 cents per hundred dollars), the total revenue would be less than $400—about $367 altogether.

HOWEVER, McBRIDE pointed out that the board might be able to get necessary land through the county's purchasing it and turning it over to the parking district to operate.

The parking board might also be able to lease desired areas with option to purchase, McBride added. He emphasized that neither solution has been explored yet because the district is still in the planning stage.

Additional revenue may come from business donations, but that, too, is dim at this time, according to Commissioner Massie.

'Orinda' Fire Causes Estimated $12,500 Damage

Insurance adjusters have tentatively estimated the damage from Saturday morning's fire at The Orinda at $12,500, according to Al Winsor, assistant fire chief.

The blaze was discovered about 3:45 a.m. Saturday by a passerby who summoned the firemen from Fire Station 1 in the Village.

A TRUCK from Fire Station 2 also responded.

The firemen, under Chief H. E. Wyatt, had the blaze "whipped" in about 15 minutes, according to Winsor.

The fire completely destroyed the bar, dining area and part of the lounge. Walls were charred and the roof blackened.

Formerly called the Orinda Roost, the well-known Crossroads establishment will be rebuilt and will reopen under the name, The Brass Lamp, according to Patrick Mattox of Berkeley.

Mattox and his wife, Mariejayne, operated The Orinda.

A THEORY THAT the fire originated from smouldering cigarette butts in a wooden box under the bar "seems the best bet," Winsor said.

The fire burned a hole through the bottom of the box and ignited the floor.

Tom McNamara, the bartender, of Martinez, said he left the bar about 2:15 a.m. thinking everything was in order. He added he emptied the ash trays into the box, which had been used as a waste paper container.

Sheriff's Deputy John Scott of Concord suffered smoke inhalation during the fire and had to be driven home.

Spring Acts Like Mid-Summer Days

Orinda's weather bird, trying to keep late spring from acting too much like mid-summer, fought a near-losing battle this week.

He was able to keep the latter part of this week semi-tropical after highs of 91 and 88 a week ago yesterday and Friday scorched the area.

And there was no rain.

Here are the full weather week's highs and lows:

	High	Low
May 19	91	49
May 20	88	55
May 21	73	47
May 22	72	46

Charles Nelson Heads Glorietta Improver Group

Glorietta Improvement Association members elected Charles Nelson as new president at the group's annual potluck dinner May 17.

The meeting was at the Glorietta School all-purpose room.

Nelson succeeds Ben Olsen. Other officers elected are:

Robert Miller, vice-president; Al Winsor, secretary, and Bob Bowles, treasurer.

Directors are Bill Harsha, Ray O'Conner, Ed Hicks, Randy Cook and Ben Olsen.

Members also heard a discussion on uses of the Pine Grove by Parkman Sayward, vice president of sales and traffic for Pacific Intermountain Express Company, who gave his company's plans for an office building on the site, and by Prof. Francis Violich, who gave his recommendations on a community center for the site.

Residents Plan Lot-Size Appeal

An application to build on two lots of less than half-acre, fronting on the east side of Camino Del Diablo, was approved Wednesday night but protesting neighbors are planning to appeal.

Mrs. John Van Dyne of 20 El Camino Del Diablo said yesterday the County Board of Adjustment's action in granting the permit will be appealed to the full Planning Commission.

THE FORMAL application by a Lafayette developer, H. M. Olsen of 3727 Sundale Road, called for a permit to build on lots 12 and 13, Block "N" in Lake Orinda Highlands.

Associate County Planner George Brenner said one lot is "about one-third acre and the other is a little less than a half-acre."

The lots adjoin. The area is zoned R-A (half-acre minimum).

Brenner said the property had been purchased with the understanding that one house could be built on each lot.

Ordinance 933, passed in March, generally states that two adjoining parcels of less than the size of the zone cannot be considered as separate building sites, Brenner said.

HOWEVER, HE ADDED, a land use permit can be obtained for building on two lots, and that the Board of Adjustment, in approving Olsen's request indicated "it would not be equitable for the acreage to be used only for one building site considering the pattern of development in the vicinity."

He explained there are some lots in the vicinity of less than a quarter-acre, built on prior to the establishment of the R-A zone.

John Van Dyne presented a petition signed by some 30 residents objecting to the application.

Van Dyne stated the main objections were that the houses would be too close together (10-foot sideyards were stipulated in the application) and thatt property volues would be decreased.

C. of C. Members Tour Pardee Dam As EBMUD Guests

Members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce were guests of the East Bay Municipal Utility District on a special trip to Pardee Dam Friday and Saturday.

The chamber members included John Barchfield, Clarence E. Betz, Maynard Beuhler, A. D. Blalock, John Ogden, Paul Vashell, R. E. Wadsworth, E. J. Fisher, Walter Friberg, Horace Breed, Harry Davis and Ned De Laveaga.

From the EBMUD office were John McFarland, general manager; J. D. DeCosta, manager, distribution division; Phil Gustafson, manager, Lafayette business office, and C. P. Tanner, director of customer relations.

The trip began at the Orinda Filter Plant with a complete tour of the operations there.

The group then traveled by chartered bus to Lake Pardee, where they had accommodations at the Camp Pardee Lodge. In the evening an educational film and talk were given on the problems of bringing water to East Bay residents.

Saturday morning the Orinda guests were taken through Pardee Dam and on a motor launch trip to the end of Pardee Lake, which is eight miles long and seven miles wide and stores sufficient water for three years' supply for the East Bay.

Thomas' Office Bid Gets Study; Protest Heard

Dr. W. F. Thomas' application for a permit for a professional building at Moraga Highway and Southwood Drive was taken under advisement Wednesday night by the County Board of Adjustment.

The three-man board, consisting Wednesday of Arthur Young, Joseph D. DeCosta and Frank R. Beede, heard arguments for and against the application and closed the hearing.

BEEDE, A NEW member of the board, indicated he would like to visit the site prior to rendering a decision on the permit.

Carlisle Nielsen, attorney for Dr. Thomas, presented a plot plan and asked the board to grant the permit.

Paul Vashell read a letter he had written opposing the application.

Dr. Thomas' formal request calls for a professional building with 10-foot setback from Moraga Highway and 10-foot sideyards, 20-foot setback from Southwood Drive, to be located on the west portion of Lot 42, Moraga Estates.

VASHELL STATED, "I and a number of others located in the Moraga Estates tract definitely oppose the application."

He said he and others purchased property knowing that deed restrictions, to be in effect until 1961, call for residential use of the property.

Vashell added that residential property adjacent would "suffer in value," that traffic and parking problems would be increased and that there "should be no need for any additional medical centers" in Orinda.

Vashell warned that if a permit is granted he would inform the Title Companies of Contra Costa County of the "violations of the deed restrictions."

According to George Brenner, associate county planner, the Thomas request is "flexible," and no definite number of offices or type planned was given.

JOSEPH CREIGHTON, who has been representing Orindans, Incorporated, in opposing Dr. Thomas' earlier plans for rezoning of the property to retail business, sent a letter to the board, Brenner said.

Brenner said the letter indicated no opposition to the granting of the permit, but stated provisions that the building should be for professional and not real estate offices.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me, I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

We Say 'Hats Off' to Orinda For Fiesta Fun!

It's always a good feeling to write about people having fun.

Orinda's Fiesta the weekend of May 14-15 was a huge success from that standpoint, especially. People from all over the area had fun.

So we are doffing our hats to all the workers who helped make the Fiesta what it was.

Hats off to Orinda! The community proved it can let down its hair and have a good time . . . may there be many more Fiestas!

The hundreds who worked on the event can rest assured their efforts were at the top of community spirit . . . and we, on this paper, would also like to toss a bouquet to Elaine Wilford of the publicity staff for her great help in telling about the Fiesta.

TRAVEL SMILES

BY Merry Miles

I'd like to tell you about a new kind of Greyhound escorted vacation to Mexico that's really operated in the spirit of the Land of Manana. You board the Mexico-bound bus at Phoenix, travel leisurely in your own "private" coach (with a congenial group of fellow adventurers) with pauses along the way for lunch, rest, or wherever there's something especially interesting to see. No hurried schedule you understand; just an easy day-by-day itinerary that gives a good rest every night in a first-class hotel, with leisure at the end of each day to stroll or ride around and enjoy life with the Mexicans.

Another feature that makes for relaxed travel in Old Mexico is your escort, a helpful person who speaks Spanish as well as English and takes care of all the worrisome details that can detract from enjoyment of foreign travel . . . like handling baggage, getting the best hotel service, tipping and that sort of thing. All you have to do is relax and enjoy everything to the utmost.

WHAT YOU SEE

You travel from El Paso on the new Pan American Highway via Juarez, Chihuahua, Camargo, Durango, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Leon, Irapuato and Queretaro, to Mexico City for six days of fun and sightseeing. From there special sightseeing tours are scheduled to such exotic places as Cuernavaca, Taxco, Puebla, Xochimilco, and Pyramids of the Sun. On the return trip you visit Toluca, Morelia and Mexico's second largest city, Guadalajara. The country is a paradise for shoppers, and you can bring home as much as $500 worth of merchandise and souvenirs duty-free.

LOW IN COST

Compared to the cost of using other forms of transportation, this Greyhound vacation in Mexico is a real bargain — only $180, double-room rate, per person, plus U.S. tax, from Phoenix. And the dollar's worth mucho pesos, which means extra cash for extra fun in Mexico. See your local Greyhound agent for complete information.

Adios for now. This is Merry Miles saying, "I'll be seeing you and you'll be seeing America — best — by Greyhound!"

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I think perhaps I may be able to shed a little light on the subject of the recall of Mr. Jack Cummings.

In the past few weeks I have come to realize that there are many newcomers in his district who have had no personal contact with him and have had no reason to go to Martinez and see him in action.

For their benefit and for those of the "old-timers" who have not followed local government, may I cite just one conversation I had with him which I feel in itself indicates that Mr. Cummings should not be trusted with a public office.

SOME TIME AGO a matter came before the Board of Supervisors about which the residents of Alamo were very much concerned. In order to make their wishes known, petitions were signed and presented to Mr. Cummings asking him to vote a certain way. At the hearing he denied our petitions and voted the opposite way.

I could not believe that any public servant would so blantantly ignore his constituents without good reason and determined to talk to him.

After much difficulty, I reached him by telephone. I told him why I was calling and asked him if he would mind telling me why he had denied us. He replied that he felt he was right. I asked him if he had any information which we did not have that would lead him to that conclusion.

HE SAID THAT he did not have, he just thought we were wrong. I asked him if he felt he had the right to supercede the wishes of the people concerned. He replied that he was the authority and he would do as he felt right regardless of what anyone else thought, EVEN 100 PER CENT OF THE VOTERS.

I could not believe he meant what he said until I had asked the question in many different ways. When we finally said a less than fond adieu, he had completely convinced me that he firmly believes that a public official is in office to dictate to the people what they shall or shall not have.

MR. CUMMINGS has clearly indicated by his officials decisions in the past months that his judgment is not sound enough or his nature altruistic enough for that type of government.

I believe that if the citizens of his district allow him to continue in office it will lend encouragement to every other public office holder who wishes to defy the people.

DOROTHY POWELL

Dear Editor:

As the 10 years (almost) of my stay in Orinda near their close, I want to express to you and your staff my personal appreciation for the very cooperative and constructie attitude which you have unfailingly maintained toward our church and the others.

Your coverage has been all that any reasonable person could ask. You go out of your way to be accommodating.

I also want to commend you for your fairness in covering all aspects of controversial matters, at the same time wishing more power to you as you take courageous stands where your conscience requires it.

Altogether you are running an informative, intelligent and stimulating weekly. We shall enjoy continuing to receive it after June 5 at 1333 Brereton Way, Oroville.

FRED MORROW
Orinda Community Church

Dear Editor:

H. L. Cummings should be reminded that actions speak louder than words, and the thousands of us who have moved to his district since the last election can only judge him by the gravel quarry and cemetery and spot zoning we have had forced on us over our direct protests to him.

The builders and realtors who went to the recall meeting were quite obviously there by request and for their own interests.

Their idea of progress is apparently to sell as many new homes as possible without regard for keeping the owners happy. They should be reminded that an exodus of disgusted property owners will drastically change the picture.

The fact that zoning cannot be trusted is already affecting many potential buyers. "Why go to Contra Costa when you'll end up with a quarry or a cemetery or a freeway in your front yard?"

Cummings has scoffed at safety for school children too often, and credits us with neither memories nor common sense.

Reading his speeches ironically as we dodge gravel trucks, we are happy to live in a democracy where dictators and special interests can lose to an aroused public.

Ruth Holland.

Dear Editor.

As chairman of the "Doers" Club, it seems fitting that we express appreciation to those merchants who participated in our recent "Carnival of Values."

We had a greater number showing active interest than we have had for some time.

However, it is not our intent to rest on our oars. . . . Let us get going on other community plans. Let's fly our American flag on all national holidays and such other days of importance locally. Our next big day is near at hand: Memorial Day. Who of us are without memory of some dear one departed? Are we to forget those who fell to preserve our way of life?

To Quote President Eisenhower, "It is not enough to know that God gave these rights to you and to your neighbor. It is well to remember this also: You may not protest these rights only for yourself. You must rotect them for all, or your own will be lost."

Think these words over neighbor; their heavy import must not fall on dealers here.

Show respect for your flag and you will show respect for your country "Let us keep our flag flying."

'The Real Thing': Are You Prepared?

(Editor's note: Lester Clark, assistant director of the Contra Costa County Civil Defense and Disaster Council, has issued the following remarks on the May 5 "yellow alert:")

By LESTER CLARK

What did you do when the Air Raid siren sounded on May 5? Did you recognize and accept the siren as the real thing? Did you remember recent press releases stating there would be no more tests?

These questions and others are in order and each family should take advantage of the lessons learned in this experience.

WHAT DID YOUR school do? Did it take steps to protect your children? Some indications show that while many schools did activate their disaster plans, others took no steps whatsoever, school went on as usual, while still others confused the fire drill signal with the air raid signal, and children were sent outside.

What did you do at home? Did you turn your radio to CONELRAD 640 or 1240 to receive your civil defense instructions and information? If you found your radio or TV operating as usual, did you remember that it takes a few minutes for CONELRAD to go into effect?

Were you protected by the knowledge available to you in civil defense training through Basic Civil Defense classes now being held in many of our schools?

Were you glad you had that three days supply of food and water — that supply that you are now trying to build up to take care of your family for a week?

WERE YOUR FIRST aid supplies complete and ready for use? Were you glad you had a good supply of that important medicine you or some member of your family have to take every day? Were you glad you had just completed that first aid and home nursing course?

Were you glad your family had a Home Fire Prevention program in operation — that all fire hazards had been removed and that you had the necessary fire fighting tools?

Were you glad your gas tank was full so you could put your family in the car and follow dispersal routes if you were so directed?

WERE YOU GLAD your identification tags had arrived and that each one in your family was safely tagged? (You may pick up order blanks at your local grocery store for the tags. The tags cost 25 cents each.)

Were you glad you had that underground shelter if you live east of Highway 21 where it is practical to build such a shelter?

Maybe the thing you should be most glad about is that the alert was over in a matter of minutes — maybe you aren't really prepared, yet, maybe the next alert won't be over as quickly.

Shaw Plays Get Repeat Showing

Little theater goers will again be offered a double portion of George Bernard Shaw when the St. Mary's College Theater presents "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets" and "The Man of Destiny" tonight and tomorrow night.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. each evening in the Le Fevre Memorial Theater on the campus.

While the plays depict semi-historical events in the lives of Shakespeare and Napoleon, the traditional picture of each is substituted by a typically Shavian portrait.

The double Shaw plays were presented last weekend for the first campus showing.

A cast composed of both student players and members of the College community are included in the production, which features Adrienne Sowers of the Lafayette Playshop in the title role in "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets" and Robert Cowell of the famed Straw Hat Theater as Napoleon, the "Man of Destiny."

Tickets will be available at the door prior to each performance. Reserved seats can be obtained by telephoning the college, DR 6-4411, public relations extension.

Improver Groups' Workshop Starts Study on Planning

Delegates from improvement club of the county met Monday night at Acalanes High School for the first in a series of workshops to formulate overall planning policies which will be presented to the Planning Commission for adoption.

The Contra Costa County Congress of Improvement Clubs, organized under the Emergency Committee for Master Planning, called the meeting.

Blaine Dixon of Alamo, chairman of the policy workshops, explained that the Emergency Committee for Master Planning has gone on record as favoring delineation of county planning goals.

"A concerted voice from the improvement clubs of the entire county pointing toward some important planning objectives will be a constructive and positive approach to the solution of countywide development problems," he said.

Questions leading to the formulation of policies on residence and industry, together questions on "general policies," were given out at the meeting.

Each club is asked to study the questions and answer them so that policies can be worked out.

WHEN THE CONGRESS of Improvement Clubs convenes again June 27 at Acalanes High School, consideration will be given to policies on commerce, agriculture, roads, utilities, schools, parks and recreation.

Robert Guichard, program chairman, pointed out to the delegates that in organizing the Congress of Improvement Clubs, the Emergency Committee had for the first time "given the residents of this county a voice."

He said that commercial interests were "well represented by the chambers of commerce, industry is protected by the Taxpayers Association and the Development Association, the Farm Bureau and Grange look out for the interests of agriculture, but prior to the formation of the Emergency Committee for Master Planning there has been no group constiuted to protect the interests of the resident."

Ed Clay, ECMP chairman, welcomed delegates, including those from the following clubs which were represnted for the first time: Parkmead Improvement Association, Springhill Road Improvement Association, San Miguel Terrace Association and Jennings Terrace Improvement Club, San Pablo.

Poppy Days Start Locally Today

Annual Poppy Days sponsored by Lafayette American Legion Post 517 Auxiliary will be held today and tomorrow throughout Lafayette and Orinda.

Proceeds from distribution of the poppies will go to the veterans rehabilitation and child welfare programs.

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. Eisenhower bought the year's first poppy recently. He paid $55, but, according to Mrs. Si Gary, in charge of the local Poppy Days, "anything anyone wants to pay for the poppies will be greatly appreciated."

She emphasized that purchases are entirely voluntary and any amount can be given for the poppies.

The poppies are made by veterans in hospitals throughout the country.

ASSISTING MRS. GARY in the local post's program are Mrs. Virginia Anderson and Mrs. Dorothy Buchanan. There will be about 20 women and children stationed in business areas and neighborhoods with the poppies.

The auxiliary has also made poppy wreathes for the graves of the 10 deceased members of the post. Bert Steet is in charge of placing the wreaths on Memorial Day.

There are no Memorial Day services planned at the Veterans Memorial Building, according to Mrs. Earl Gustafson.

Mrs. Gary named the following as winners of the auxiliary-sponsored School Poppy Poster contest:

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade—first, Linda Hammarburg; second, Frank Malley. Seventh, eighth and ninth grades—first, Dick Jencks; second, Judy Morrison; 10th, 11th and 12th grades—first, Judy Parker; second, Nancy Herrmann.

Judges were Mesdames Clayton Herman, Robert Hoedel and Earl Bowbeer.

Go to Church Sunday

Episcopal

In a special sermon for Whitsunday (May 29), the Rev. Charles M. Hill will speak on "The Holy Ghost, God in Action in Our Lives," during the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Via Las Cruces in the Charles Hill area of Orinda.

The anniversary of the founding of the Christian church, Whitsunday, or Pentecost, is the celebration of the descent of the Holy Spirit on the 120 Christians who met together under the guidance of Simon Peter in Jerusalem.

Whitsunday, or the Christian Pentecost, marks the completion of the revelation of the Godshead, the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, and is followed by Unity Sunday, commemorating the three aspects of the one Deity.

The liturgical color of red will be used in all altar hangings and vestments, and choral Holy Communion will be the order of service.

Lutheran

"Speaking the Truth in Love" is pastor Edward R. Andersen's sermon theme for this Pentecost Sunday at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church at 8 and 11 o'clock services.

Says Mr. Andersen: "Pentecost is the birthday of the Christian church—the day on which the Spirit of God was poured out upon the people in a special way. The ongoing work of this spiritual outpouring has been the growth and activity of the Christian church in all of its branches and denominations, down through the New Testament history.

"Each denomination has a little different understanding of the work of the Holy Spirit but more and more the oneness of God's mind is drawing the church together in spirit and in work."

The Sunday School program at 9:30 will include a native Indian and his wife speaking about the Christian missionary work in their own country.

Orinda Honors The Rev. Morrow At Testimonial

Orinda paid tribute Monday night to the Rev. Fred Morrow of the Orinda Community Church, who is leaving June 5 to take up duties at a pastorate in Oroville.

The testimonial dinner was held at the Brazilian Room of Tilden Park. Some 130 friends representing 25 Orinda organizations attended.

ALONG WITH THE good wishes expressed by the speakers during the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow received tangible tokens of the community's esteem.

These included a community citation on parchment, enclosed in a blue leather folder, a guest book signed by all present and a handsome wallet.

The wallet, presented to Mr. Morrow by George Eberhart on behalf of the Rotary Club, contained a $100 bill.

The community citation was signed by Robert Boyle, president of the Orinda Association; Ernest Poll, retiring president of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce; Howard Dail, moderator of the Community Church; Eberhart, president of the Rotary Club, and Mrs. Catherine Schwarck, Orinda School District board member.

It read:

"On May 23, 1955, the community of Orinda expresses its appreciation of Fred R. Morrow, true minister to the Community Church, staunch friend of other churches, active participant in community affairs, gracious demonstrator of the Rotary aim, 'Service above Self,' fine example of Christian behavior, and outstanding Orinda resident during the past 10 fruitful years."

Ramsay Underwood was master of ceremonies for the evening. He introduced Speakers William Penn Mott Jr., Donald Krotz and the Rev. Charles M. Hill, vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

All paid tribute to Mr. Morrow, who responded with a speech expressing his thanks to the community and telling the gathering of the Oroville position.

MOTT SPOKE FOR the organizations in Orinda, Krotz represented the Community Church and Mr. Hill spoke for the other churches.

Mr. Hill said Mr. Morrow "might be succeeded but never replaced in the life of Orinda."

Mott, speaking of Orinda's physical development, said the town has also developed into a "group of friendly, tolerant, understanding people," due, in large part, to Mr. Morrow's leadership.

KROTZ SPOKE OF the history of the Community Church and lauded the minister's ability and hard work in building up the church.

Also presented at the dinner was a large portrait of Mr. Morrow done by Martin White, portrait photographer. The picture was presented to Krotz to be placed in the church hall.

The tables had been decorated with floral arrangements by Mrs. Andy Blalock and Mrs. Ernest Drews.

The affair was summed up yesterday by Mrs. Ray Devin, who was in charge of arrangements for the dinner. She said:

"It was a true expression of community gratitude for an outstanding man."

Bees Swarm Tree At Merriam Home

Bees by the thousands, their collective weight bending tree limbs almost to the ground, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Merriam May 19.

"We looked out the window about noon and saw them coming from the east in a huge swarm," reported Mrs. Merriam of 38 Don Gabriel Way.

The buzzing mass clustered on two limbs of a Chinese Elm in the Merriam's front yard, bending the limbs close to the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Merriam watched the bees from the time of their arrival at 12:10 p.m. until the bees decided to swarm away at 3:45 p.m.

"They buzzed away, down the street in the same direction from which they came," Mrs. Merriam reported. The Merriams' son, Tody, 7, had gone to school (first grade, Del Rey) about 10 minutes before the bees arrived and he returned home too late to see the spectacle.

But he did see a few small nonconformists who remained behind after the rest of the bee community left the area. The last of the bees pulled out Saturday morning.

"It was quite a sight," Mrs. Merriam said.

Pandorans and Husbands Hold Annual Dinner Fete

The annual dinner party for members and husbands of Pandora Chapter of the Children's Home Society was held Saturday at the home of the new president, Mrs. Kenneth St. Clair, 24 La Campana, Orinda.

In charge of the event was Mrs. William Houston, assisted by Mrs. Ridgley Greathouse and Mrs. James Lamberth.

COCKTAILS WERE enjoyed on the patio followed by a buffet supper. Bridge tables were set up for those who wished to play after dinner and there was dancing in the rumpus room.

The successful evening celebrated the completion of a year of fund raising events to benefit Children's Home Society, the oldest private adoption agency in California.

It was recently pointed out to Pandora members that the society has placed over 16,000 children, many of them crippled, blind, otherwise handicapped, or having particular racial problems.

Today it is found necessary to meet special needs for one child out of four, the members were told.

NEW OFFICERS for the coming year for Pandora who will take over at the June meeting are: Mrs. St. Clair, president; Mrs. Harry Lavagetto, vice-president; Mrs. Mrs. W. H. Van Daff, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry Wynne, Rees Paine, recording secretary; treasurer, and Mrs. Glen Smith, past president.

Committee chairmen are Mesdames Robert Barton, membership; Edward Walsh, publicity; Charles Biesel, telephone; Walter Haefele, fines and birthdays; volunter work, Roy Beckett; ways and means, William Houston; parliamentarian, James Lamberth; sewing, Harold Anderson, and magazine subscriptions, Jack Pedder.

Sharing Mrs. Barrows' hospitality were the Mesdames Gerald H. Hagar, Frank G. Adams, Albert Barrows, Thomas B. Adams, Richard P. Hafner Jr., Anna B. Stewart, Norman H. Cunningham, D. B. Stewart, Marshall McMillin, and Miss Shirley Daniels, whose marriage to Julie's brother, George B. Hagar, will take place June 30.

Diablo Garden Club To Hold Final Meet

The Diablo Garden Club will hold its annual picnic for members only in the garden of Mrs. W. S. Palmer of Oak Road, Walnut Creek, Wednesday, 11 a.m.

The party will have an Hawaiian theme with entertainment in music and dancing by some of the students of the Palmer School during the serving of the outdoor luncheon.

Mrs. Palmer is president and will be assisted by the board of directors acting as hostesses. This will be the final meeting before the summer vacation.

The club will meet again in September at the Diablo Country Club.

Poplar to Hold Gala 'Pink Party'

By HARRIET AINSWORTH

A summer dinner dance to benefit the hospital, "Poplar's Pink Party" on June 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vendt in Walnut Creek will draw members of Children's Hospital of the East Bay and guests from Oakland, Berkeley, Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

The Vendt home, scene of the "pink party," is one of the interesting and historic spots in the Bay Area. Although its beginnings are now veiled in mystery by the curtain of time, the Vendts are fairly certain that construction on the house was begun in 1862.

The pioneer who first started the house was obviously from the South, because the plantings in the spreading gardens are predominantly magnolia and Missouri hickory, and the house, though not Colonial, is in the Southern tradition.

Additions to the house were made in 1870, including a ballroom which the Vendts now use as a poolroom. Utah had been admitted to the Union, but not California as a state when the U.S. flag, made of glass, was set over the door to the house foyer.

The well-known Diablo developer R. N. Burgess bought the home in 1909 and added more to it, including a fire-alarm system. When the Vendts took it over a couple of years ago, the first thing Barbara did was to disconnect the fire alarm which is located under her bed!

The charm of the interesting old house, the towering, flowering trees and shrubs of the gardens, decorations of masses of pink flowers and pink candles and dinner and dancing are expected to close the reservations for the party early.

Limit will be 300 persons, according to Mrs. Harold Inman of Oakland, party chairman.

Flaming torches will light the gardens, according to Mrs. Gilbert Calden of Oakland, decorations chairman. Others on the dinner dance committee include Mrs. Robert J. Pedder of Lafayette, Mrs. John B. Hudspeth of Berkeley and Mrs. Stanley C. Smith of Oakland, arrangements, and Mrs. Lyle A. Byers of Berkeley and Mrs. Valentine Brooks of Orinda, reservations.

About Our Happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

Choux Choux's daughter takes airplane trip

This is the time of year for trips.

Flying East recently were Mrs. Ron Schacht, baby daughter Elizabeth and one small black poodle of fancy lineage (daughter of Choux Choux, pronounced Shoo Shoo, meaning, from what we remember of our high school French something on the order of a Siamese cabbage).

Puppy was being taken to Mr. and Mrs. James North of New Canaan, Conn., who had visited here recently and become entranced with Choux Choux's beautiful batch of babies.

Onto the airship, and puppy was customarily stashed away in kennel provided by airlines. Over Salt Lake puppy was released for introduction to stewardess and co-pilot.

Mrs. Schacht, with the wisdom of experience, suggested the stragecic placement of a newspaper The stewardess produced a copy of the New York Times, which Mrs. S. though "perfect for the occasion."

Puppy had a gay time nipping the ankles of the crew and cavorting around generally but "completely ignored the New York Times, which just goes to prove how much we miss The Orinda Sun!"

More tripsters. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Marsh—they of the brand new baby— took off for the East on business. Good idea for new mothers—baby at home, all tucked away with perfect care, and mother away from it all for a restful few days.

Another perfect idea we highly recommend for new mothers, which worked in this case but might not always, so don't depend on it—upon arrival home a surprise package in the garage—elegant yellow Cadillac.

Fascinating tale of two Frank Wrights

When is it right to be Wright? When we write of the rites of the Wrights in New York—it's the truth, so help me Hannah, or about it we wouldn't have writ!

Mr. and Mrs. Frank (local) Wright were visiting at the Plaza Hotel. A few flights up or down there was another Mr. Frank Wright from out of town—an architectural gent of different generation, considered opinions, flowing bow tie and the middle name of Lloyd.

First fiasco was when Lloyd got phone call intended for Local. Recipient said Mr. Wright out for moment but could one of his aides take message? Phoning gentleman set back on heels, thinking Local must have gained considerably in prestige and performance since last seen, when he did not travel with several aides.

Second fiasco. Local makes phone reservation for dinner and floor show to accomodate cozy group of four people and is somewhat abashed when he is ushered with considerable fanfare, to ringside table of prime location within easy spitting distance of entertainment. Head waiter also abashed thinking how Lloyd had changed since that photograph in morning paper, and must have wanted to ask Local what kind of vitamins he took to make him look so unlike Lloyd.

After that, Mr. and Mrs. Local visited the Kirk Miles', living temporarily in Connecticut, and the Wayne Caygills, living temporarily in Chicago.

Which reminds us—did you know the following ex-Contra Costans subscribe to and thoroughly enjoy the Sun?—the Miles', Caygills, James Norths and Dan Sheldons.

'Mystery' story of the missing Austin

One more tripster—Mr. Ambrose P. Macdonald tripped into town to leave his car for some repairs. A kind friend loaned Mr. M. his Austin, so one fine morning he folded himself into sections, got into same, and drove to Berkeley, where he parked Austin in customary space carefully labeled "reserved for A.P. Macdonald."

Later, major domo of parking area arrives and is aghast to note interloping Austin in legitimate, paid-for parking space, so phones constabulary and has interloper hauled off to clink.

After attendant long since gone home, the reappearing Mr. Macdonald horrified to note Austin gone—real gone.

Hopefully he called Mrs. A.P. 'Mac., but she had not borrowed the borrowed Austin.

Well, after involved sleuthing operation, little Austin was recovered (after payment of $6 fine), and in his excitement to get away from police station, Mr. M. shifts into wrong gear and goes flying away at great rate of speed—backwards.

What, no scoop? It's good news, anyway!

What is a scoop? A scoop is something you get before anyone else, and that is what this would be except for the fact that The Sun comes out on Fridays.

We knew about it a week ago because he is our second cousin, and we could almost hear the engagement ring clanking around in his pocket—however, we were sworn to secrecy, which disproves anything you might previously have thought about lady news columnists.

Roger Dunn and Louella Curtice have announced their engagement—first by the customary channels at the Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Kappa Epsilon houses at the University of California—then a cocktail party at the Frank Dunns on Charles Hill Road.

Lou is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Curtice of Berkeley, and Roger is the son of Barbara and "Mike" Dunn and brother of Judy.

He has had a busy year, what with preparing to go into the Navy, being president of the "Deke" house and planning to be married—very exciting for all of us.

A reassuring note about youthful manners

Reassuring note for parents who think junior's manners are ghastly and who quake in their boots every time he is turned loose in polite society:

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts of the Roberts Shows, who staged the entertainment concessions at the Orinda Fiesta, commented that in all their experience of putting on like shows in various parts of California they had never been exposed to such a well-mannered group of young.

The moppets said "please" and "Thank you" at the required times, and all their activities reflected the fact that ours is a fine community.

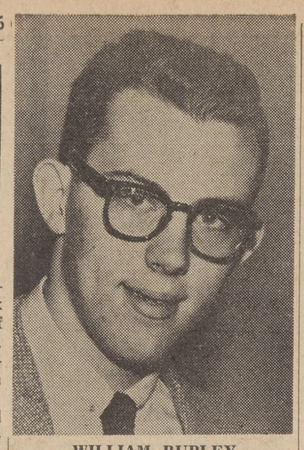
Now we have heard of the hot seat but never, no never anything like this—courtesy Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth, "(regarding the Carl Vendt home in Walnut Creek)."

The pioneer who built the house was obviously from the South as evidenced by magnolias, Missouri hickory and Southern Colonial tradition. It was constructed about 1862. Additions were made in 1870, including a ballroom and the P.S. flag made in glass over the front door.

In 1909 a fire alarm was added—under the bed—since disconnected by the Vendts.

Poplar Branch of the Children's Hospital will have its Pink Party there on June 11 attracting many guests to this historic spot. (If we are invited, we will probably take along a pair of pliers and do something about that fire alarm.)

Local ladies on the committees will be Mesdames Robert J. Pedder, Valentine Brookes, William Brailsford, Frank Brush, Talbot Evans, Rollin Moore, Robert Moorehead, John Reilly Jr., Russell Gilwee and J. Gordon Ainsworth.



WILLIAM RUPLEY

William Rupley Wins $500 Prize In Bank Program

William Rupley, senior at Acalanes High School, is the holder of a check for $500 from the Bank of America achievement awards program.

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rupley of 106 Camino Don Miguel, was awarded the check for earning second place in the science and mathematics category.

HE WAS CHOSEN, along with other winners from Bay Area high schools, for leadership, citizenship and scholarship.

The 27 other finalists in the awards program included Stephen Cook of Walnut Creek, a senior at Las Lomas High School, who earned a $1000 check for fine arts achievement.

A total of $8600 in cash awards was given Friday in ceremonies at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

The finalists had been selected at zone judging last month from among the top representatives of 115 high schools in nine Bay Area counties.

Including zone competition, more than 5000 certificates, trophy cups, ribbons and $35,600 in cash were presented in this year's Bank of America achievement awards program in California to recognize youthful achievement.

A crowd of more than 700 witnessed the ceremonies Friday.

YOUNG RUPLEY was named first by Acalanes High School as its entrant in the awards program and then entered the finals through zone judging last month.

William recently distinguished himself in the area Lions Club Student Speakers contest. He represented Orinda, then went on to win zone honors.

Scout Salute...

Pack 52 Wins

Two eight-run innings proved more than enough Saturday as Cub Pack 52 continued its winning streak by downing Pack 225, 20 to 8.

After an even ball game until the fourth, the big bats of the winning nine came to life and it was "no contest" from there on.

Mike Smyth started on the mound for 52, pitching good ball until the fourth when he ran into a streak of wildness.

Don Hildebrandt relieved him and blanked 225 the rest of the way, giving up only one hit and striking out 11.

Hildebrandt and Bob Williams were the big guns for 52, banging out four hits in five times at bat. Bruce Nickerson hit two for four.

Right fielder Stan Silva figured in two outstanding plays as twice he grabbed line drives on the first bounce, threw to first base to nail the runner.

The batteries for 52 were Smyth, D. Hildebrant and Bowles and for 225, Smith, Davis, Winthers and Thaxter.

The win gave 52 a 6 and 1 record for the year and they play their final game with Pack 32 at Moraga del Rey tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Troop 235 'Flys'

AS EACH GIRL'S name was called by Mrs. Gilbert, the Brownie stepped forward, gave the Scout Promise and salute and received her Scout tie and pin from the new leaders.

Refreshments were provided by mothers of the girls. Peggy James arranged the flowers on the table.

Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. R. Hansen, co-leader, received the thanks of the troop for their work during the past year.

William S. Everts Given Last Rites

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning for William S. Everts, a leader in the California canning industry for many years, who resided at 5 Dos Posos.

Mr. Everts, 67, died Friday evening in an Oakland hospital of a heart ailment.

He is survived by his wife, Brunhilde.

A former Army major, he became associated with the canning industry in 1927. He was a retired vice-president of the Canners League of California and had served as manager of the Cling Peach Advisory Board and the Asparagus Advisory Board.

He had also been a member of the Agriculture Prorate Commission of California.

Private services were held at the Little Chapel of the Flowers in Berkeley.

Interment was at Presidio National Cemetery, San Francisco.

Here's Review Of Civil Defense Warning Signals

Here are the types of air raid warnings in use by civil defense agencies.

Lester Clark, assistant director of the Contra Costa Civil Defense and Disaster Council, asks citizens to memorize the signals, with the assertion that "No 'test alerts" are scheduled, so any warning must be accepted as the real thing."

ALERT SIGNAL — a steady blast of three to five minutes duration, which indicates to the public to act according to the operation plan of the local civil defense authorities. This signal signifies "attack probable" and that there is presumably time to disperse. All dispersal plans go into effect on this signal without further instruction.

TAKE COVER SIGNAL — a wailing tone or a series of short blasts of three minutes duration. This will indicate attack is imminent and there is time only to "duck and cover," or take the best shelter available.

The "Warning White" or "all clear" signal has been eliminated, since hazard of radioactive fallout may preclude bringing the public out of shelters in all areas simultaneously. Instructions to come out of a shelter will be given by CONELRAD and other means of communication.

The CONELRAD system — 640 and 1240 on standard AM radio — is the surest and best means of receiving civil defense information.

Casts Picked for Summer Plays by the Dramateurs

Director Carl Rasmussen of the Dramateurs has cast the group's summer repertoire of three plays, and rehearsals are already under way.

In "The Guardsman" will be Pat (Tish) Winkworth, Charlotte Chapple and Eddie Woltz from Orinda; Jewel Scheeline and Katie Genesy from Oakland; Jack Holder from Walnut Creek; and Don Schaefer, who will also be assistant director of this play, from Albany.

Patty Connally from Orinda and Merritt Mann from Walnut Creek will star in "The Fourposter," and Beth Culp from Berkeley will be assistant director.

Norma Betz of Orinda will be the assistant director for the French farce, "Gigi," and in the cast will be seen Alice Swenning and Peg Stanislawsky from Berkeley; Charles Scott, Wirtabel Harris, and Charles Gibbs from Orinda, Francess Shurtliff from Walnut Creek, and Norma Walkley from Berkeley.

These plays are scheduled to be presented "in the round" at Lafayette's Town Hall the last three weekends in July.

"In the round" presentation lends itself to a new feeling of intimacy between actors and audience inasmuch as the staging is on a flat floor surrounded by the audience on four (sometimes three) sides.

Warning on Gun, 'Cracker Laws Given

Also, an upsurge in shooting of air rifles and .22 calbre rifles by youths practicing has brought many complaints to the sheriff's office.

Deputies remind youngsters that Ordinance 603 prohibits the possession or use of such firearms by minors under 16, unless they are accompanied by adults.

Conviction for violation of the ordinance carries with a maximum fine of $500 or imprisonment in the county jail for three months, or both.

Fireworks, air rifles and other potentially dangerous noise makers are coming in for special attention by the Sheriff's Department, deputies reported yesterday.

The Walnut Creek substation reported an Orinda youth, who bought 101 packs of fireworks and cherry bombs for $5 in Oakland recently, lost same when his father reported it to the deputies.

The deputies pointed out that county law makes illegal the possession of such Fourth of July equipment.

Estate Appraised At $116,264.17

The estate of Charles H. Samuels, who died December 19, has been valued at $116,264.17, according to an appraisal report filed recently in the office of the county clerk.

The report lists a $65,056.88 promissory note from the United California Express and Storage Company, a $17,000 home at 98 Hillcrest Drive and $21,047.37 in cash.

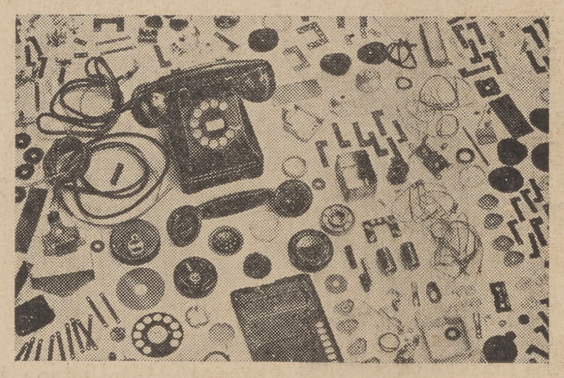
George A. Bauslaugh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda



How many parts make a telephone?

If you were to count the parts in a telephone, you'd find an almost unbelievable number. There are 433 of them, all told. Many of these are complex and precision made. Yet the telephone is rugged. On the average it needs fixing only once in about six years. And telephone people have worked out ways to make telephones at surprisingly low cost. These things help us keep telephone service a good buy for you. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

You, too, Can Swim in the Sun in Your Own Family Pool!

Here's Advice on Depth of Your Pool

A depth of 7 feet or even 6 feet is ample for swimming where no diving board is to be installed and is safe for shallow dives from the margin of the pool.

It is even possible to use an 8 or 10 foot diving plank placed close to the pool deck for entering a pool with a depth of 7 feet.

With a residential 10 foot springboard placed 18 inches above the water, an 8 foot depth is satisfactory, while the regulation one-meter board calls for a depth of 8 feet 6 inches.

If a diving tower is to be installed with the tip of the board three meters above the water, a depth of 10 feet should be provided at least 15 feet from the deep end wall, and the 5 foot break should occur 35 feet from the deep end wall.

An installation of this type will provide regulation facilities for expert diving.

The shallow end of the pool should have a minimum depth of 3' or 3'6" and slope evenly to the 5' break.

Masons to Hold Family Night

Robert W. Keller, chairman of the Acalanes Lodge 723, F&AM, Family Night, has arranged a highly entertaining program for the occasion next Tuesday night, according to Thomas C. Pauli, junior warden.

In addition to emceeing the soiree, Keller (the poor man's Davy Crockett), will offer several vocal renditions, accompanying himself on the "geetar."

Refreshments will follow the entertainment, slated for 8 p.m., at the Veterans Memorial Building, Lafayette.

Your Swim Pool Means Enjoyment – Here Are Basic Things to Consider . . .

Love that pool! Who wouldn't?

A swimming pool makes your home, this year and every year, the grandest-of-all vacation spots.

To kids, a pool is a special sort of heaven — the nicest thing that can happen to a back yard . . . your back yard.

A SWIMMING POOL is a good investment that adds to the beauty ment in health and happiness, an invesment that adds to the beauty of your garden and increases the resale value of your property.

A good swimming pool is easy to maintain, inexpensive to own and fun to live with.

But, before you buy any pool at any price, you ought to know what to look for.

THERE ARE THREE basic things to look for in a swimming pool. They are:

The pool structure.

The filter system.

The pool interior finish.

PRIMARILY, the success of your swimming pool depends upon these three, for in these three nothing less that the best is good enough.

You can, if you wish, economize on such items as the diving board, ladder or light, and you can do with walks and trim that are not the last word.

Some of these can be omitted or added later, and any of them can be replaced at comparatively small cost.

BUT IF the pool structure itself is unsound, if the filter fails to operate properly of if it requires constant repairs and if the interior finish of the pool is so rough it scrapes the skin off your feet, you are faced with an expensive and often impossible problem.

And you can't trade a poor pool in on a good one!

Private Swimming Pool Is Safe -- Inexpensive, Too

To some people, the term "private swimming pool" means a luxurious and expensive installation available only to the rich.

To others, it may mean an inexpensive dunking place in the back yard, rather unsanitary and something of a nuisance.

Actually, neither of these extremes presents a true picture.

The modern, filtered home swimming pool is safe, sanitary, beautiful and relatively inexpensive.

It should not be considered a luxury but a very worthwhile investment in fun and good health—an investment that will increase the value of your property by far more than the dollars you put into it.

500 Enjoy Spring Fete

"Fete de Printemps," the final dinner dance of the year given by the Twenty-Thirty Assembly, on May 14, at the Diablo Country Club, was enjoyed by more than 500 young people.

White dinner jackets, attractive spring formals, Parisian decor and the music of Jimmy Diamond's orchestra colorfully set the pace for the sophisticated affair.

The evening started with cocktails at 8:30, then a fine dinner of beef, salad and pineapple sundaes followed by dancing and fun 'til early the next morning.

The John McClarens of Orinda arrived after their at home preparty entertainment for their guests.

Other local couples who entertained beforehand were the Phil Oyers of Orinda and the Ted Littlejohns and Mr .and Mrs. William Majors of Lafayette.

Diving Champ to Open Swim School On Carol Lane

Frank McGuigan, 1945 senior men's AAU champion diver, plans to open the Frank McGuigan Swim School on Carol Lane in Lafayette Wednesday.

McGuigan was in competition for 12 years, during which time he represented the Fairmont Hotel team and the Olympic Club.

He won many local and state championships and finally climaxed his career with the national championship at the New York A. C. in 1945.

McGuigan coached diving for the Olympic Club and the national championship team of Crystal Plunge. He served in the navy as a physical instructor and taught swimming overseas and at Treasure Island.

Take Good Care Of Your Pool!

To get the most in fun, satisfaction and value out of your swimming pool, it should be maintained in immaculate condition with clear, brilliant water at all times.

The most beautifully designed and equipped pool in the world will be both unsightly and unusable if improperly maintained and operated.

On the other hand, it is perfectly possible by intelligent, regular care to maintain even a poorly equipped pool so that it will be clean and usable at all times.

You'll Probably Want to Know These Pool Facts

If you have reached the stage of planning to install a new swimming pool, there are many things you will want to know, especially if you have not owned a pool before:

The size, shape, the placement, the respective merits of various types of structures, the proper depths for swimming, diving and wading.

How the pool should be trimmed and finished; what deck to install. Whether the pool should be heated; the type of filtration and perhaps other questions applying to your particular circumstances and location.

Bamboos Can Be Used Many Ways

Bamboos are giant grasses that grow in many varieties from 10 inches to 80 feet.

About 70 species and varieties of bamboos (mostly from China, Japan and India) do well in this area and can be used as hedges, screens, for accent planting and in containers.

Especially effective in tubs, pots and boxes are the Fernleaf, Chinese Goddess, Golden, Black and Metake Bamboos.

A "running" bamboo, the Golden spreads out 15 feet in a horizontal manner but can be controlled by planting in containers. Widely grown, this bamboo becomes drought-resistant where it is established.

In pots and containers the Black Bamboo, portions of which gradually turn black, grows best in partial shade and can be used in screen plantings.

At Modern Homes These Shrubs OK

Some fine low-growing shrubs for use in containers or along walkways of modern homes are sevral low-growing junipers and the Raphiolepis varieties.

Two of the most popular low-growing junipers are the Tamarix and the Creeping Juniper.

Wide spreading, Juniper Tamarix seldom grows taller than 18 inches, with bright green foliage.

As the name implies, the Creeping Juniper is exactly suited for low plantings, and this juniper is available in many varieties.

Fine as a foundation planting, the Pink India Hawthorn (Raphiolepis indica rosea) provides shiny evergreen foliage that turns from light bronze to light and then dark green.

Pink flowers and blue-black fruit add further color. It gorws slowly to 3 feet or so and spreads somewhat wider in a reclining manner. Young India Hawthorns will need no pruning until later life.

Coates Crimson (Raphiolepis indica rubra), another Hawthorn variety, grows more compactly than the India, with light to fairly deep crimson flowers.

Advice Offered On Care of Lawn In New Checklist

Here's your latest Garden Checklist:

1. Good lawn maintenance requires regular cutting, fertilizing and dee pwatering.
2. If you want "show quality" rose blooms to cut, disbud early. Remove all small flower buds on each shoot except the terminal one.
3. Brown sopts in the lawn may indicate:
   (a.) Uneven or insufficient watering.
   (b.) Allowing the grass to become too high before cutting.
   (c.) Lawn moth damage which can be controlled with chlordane or dieldrin.
   An unhappy lawn is almost always benefited by a fertilizer application.
4. Be methodical about pest control. Prevention is easier than the cure.
5. Weed your lawn the easy way by applying 2-4-D weed killer. Your nurseryman will advise you.

In Every Garden Comes That Time When Old Shrubs Must Give Way to New Ones

By THE GARDENER

FIGHT IT as you may, the time comes in the life of every garden and yard when the new must replace the old.

Gardeners become attached to certain shrubs and hate to part with them — as one hates to discard a comfortable but shabby jacket or pair of shoes.

But the day arrives when even the gardener must admit for the sake of his garden's looks certain shrubs must go.

AMONG THOSE to consider for replacement to "spruce up" your garden are some of the more unusual shrubs — the Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow shrub (Brunfelsia) whose flowers change color each day, from violet to lavender to white — hence the name.

The Carnation-Flowered Pomegranate (Punica granatum nana) blooms in brilliant scarlet followed by red fruit.

A dwarf form, it reaches 3 to 4 feet and does well throughout the entire state.

IF IT'S FOUNDATION plantings you need to replace, try the Pink India Hawthorn (Raphiolepis indica rosea) that grows with pink flowers and blue-black fruit.

One of the most useful shrubs of the West is the Heavenly Bamboo (Nandina domestica), which grows slowly to 8 feet but by pruning can be held to 3.

Its young foliage is tinged pink and reddish, turning green, eventually purple and bronzish, then fiery crimson in winter.

A FINE EVERGREEN shrub is Rondeletia Cordata, which grows from 4 to 8 feet, with big glossy golden to dark green foliage.

Hydranea-like flower heads of salmon-pink with yellow throats appear in February and often last until June.

The Rondeletia prefers filtered sun and a sandy loam but will tolerate an adobe soil if the proper fertilizer and adequate drainage are provided.

OTHER GOOD evergreen selections can be found in the large Pittosporum family.

The Japanese is the most widely planted species; it offers dark green foliage, fragrant creamy-white flowers and brownish fruits.

One of the most useful shrubs in this species is the Pittosporum tobira variegata. Its gray-green leaves are outlined in white and for this reason the shrub is fine for lightening dark areas of your yard.

Good for a small garden, the Rock Pittosporum has yellow-green leaves and pale yellow flowers and grows rather spreading and low.

ONE OF THE WEST'S most distinguished shrubs, the Andromeda, is available for garden and yard plantings in many pleasing varieties.

The Lily-of-the-Valley Shrub or Andromeda japonica reaches 6 to 10 feet, with dark green leaves in graceful clusters.

When new leaves appear in spring, there are bronzy-pink to scarlet tones and pearly-white urn-shaped flowers hanging from the tips of branches.

Another Andromeda variety, the forresti, has flaming new red foliage in the spring.

Consult your nurseryman and get his suggestions on new plant replacements for your garden.

Relaxing-Aid Given Teachers

Teachers of the Lafayette School are enjoying the comforts of a new chesterfield in their lounge at the school, thanks to the generosity of the Lafayette PTA.

With funds from last year's Westival, the PTA purchased the much needed piece of furniture for the teachers' room. This item is only one of many additions to school equipment made possible by the work of the Lafayette PTA and its Westival proceeds.

Other equipment given to the school this year by the PTA are film strips and a film-strip viewer for classroom use, wood-working tools, large atlases, specialized books for the school library, books for remedial reading classes and reading and arithmetic games for classroom use.

Acalanes Valley Notes

By DOROTHEA CUMMINGS, AT 3-2973

TO DENMARK

Mr. and Mrs. William Link gave a dinner party at their home on Marianne Drive last week for friends of theirs who are leaving soon on a trip to Denmark.

The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Art Witzang of Oakland. They will leave here by plane on May 31 for a five weeks' visit to their native country.

After dinner the Links and their guests chatted and played cards. Other guests besides the Witzangs were Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons and Mr. Oscar Bergstrom.

GETTING SETTLED

Busy getting settled in their brand new home on Acalanes Road these days are Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Harris who moved her from Berkeley last month. As of now, they feel "at home" inside the house but still feel that they have much to do outside.

However, their newly planted lawn is rapidly coming up and already looks fine.

The Harrises brought with them from Berkeley their three pets, a Pekingese named "Kimmy" and two parakeets, "Tico" and "Silver."

Welcome to Acalanes Valley!

BACK TO TEXAS

Everyone in the Valley was sorry to see Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hughes pull up stakes and go back to Texas last month.

And it wasn't much to the liking of the Hughes, either, for it was less than a year ago that they purchased and moved into the "model home" on Acalanes Road. At that time, they were hoping to make Lafayette their home permanently.

However, a few months ago the state informed them that their house would be in the way of the freeway off-ramp and that they must move.

So, back to Texas they went. Prior to that they had lived in Missouri, Connecticut and Honolulu.

Softball Teams Active in W.C. League Games

The opening game of Walnut Creek's Softball League, May 16, at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, was crowned by King Food Center's 5-2 victory over State Farm and the attendance of Mayor Edward C. Counter, who threw out the first ball.

Pitcher Tom Joy of Kings, struck out 11. Art Heasel of the Farmers came close with 8 outs.

LAST FRIDAY King's suffered a 6-2 defeat against Larry's Flying 'A' of Lafayette. The Flyers boasted two homers and pitcher John Hinson's 7 strike-outs.

In a rematch of Kings and Flyers on Monday, Larry's boys scored a more decisive victory at 7-1. Dutch Bill replacing Hinson at the mound struck out a grand total of 16.

League games are played on Monday and Friday beginning at 9 p.m., preceded by Pee Wee League games. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, exhibition games are held. Thursday evening the fairer sex adorns the diamond.

MANNY COTLOW, publicity chairman, announces that top girl teams in the area will play on the Recreation Center's diamond. Tina Lloyd coaches the Walnut Creek girl's team.

Tonight's game will pit twice-winners, Larry's Flying 'A' against the opening night victors, State Farm.

The public is encouraged to get out and support home league baseball, There is no admission charge.

Officials Tour Flood Control Points Today

United States Soil Conservation officials from the western states and Hawaii will tour flood control projects in Lafayette and Walnut Creek this morning.

Baseball Title Nabbed by Dons; Rams Tie for 2nd

The Acalanes varsity baseball team took the 1955 pennant race when they wound up the season with seven wins and three losses.

The Pittsburg Pirates and Pleasant Hill Rams tied for second, with 6-4 records, while Las Lomas and Mt. Diablo tied for fourth with 5-5.

Antioch was in the cellar with four wins as against six losses.

The Dons lost six of their 16-man squad via graduation and will have some replacing to do, particularly in the catching department, where this season's receivers, Dick Jarrett and Andy Fadelli, both leave.

Dick Jones, ace right-handed hurler, leaves a big gap in the pitching department.

Main loss in the infield will be Jerry Coakley at shortstop.

In the outfield the loss of centerfielder Paul Miller leaves a big gap to be filled.

Relay Win Gives Mt. Diablo Title Of North Coast

The Mt. Diablo thinclads did themselves proud when as champions of the Diablo Valley League they came through with a winning time of 1:29.0 in the 880 relay at the North Coast Section meet Saturday at Berkeley.

The win gave Diablo the crown, as they trailed Hayward by 3 points and led Richmond one going into the baton-passing event.

Big point getter for the Devils was Dave Krowel, who copped first in both hurdle events.

Diablo wound up with 31 points, with Hayward next with 26 and Richmond fourth with 24¾.

Pittsburg showed in sixth with 15, while Acalanes was the only other Contra Costa school to tally in the varsity when George Coad ended up in a three-way tie for second in the pole vault.

Undulin of Burlingame took the event when he set a new record at 12 feet, 12½ inihes.

BERKELEY HIGH took the Bee title with 42 points, while El Cerrito and Encinal of Alameda tied for second with 21 apiece.

Pittsburg was tops for Contra Costa County, scoring 17½ points

Las Lomas with 5 and Diablo with 2 were the only other Diablo Valley League teams to get in the scoring column

The Las Lomas points came in the 660 when Weckerle copped a second.

Hectic High School Baseball Season Ends as Acalanes Dons Capture Title

By ERWIN MATTSON

BASEBALL HAS JUST COMPLETED a hectic local area prep season, with a pennant race about as close as they come—down to the final wire before the issue was decided.

To top it all off, there was a merry mixup on the tournament among the top four clubs.

It was decided some time back to have a tournament at the close of the season, with the number 1 club meeting the number 3 team, while second and fourth played in the opening round.

The losers were then to play one game to decide third, while the winners were to play two out of three for the top spot.

The coaches originally planed to hold the playoff at Pittsburg and under the lights.

The Board of Managers then countered the idea of having the games at Pittsburg, and instead shifted them to afternoon, the locals to be at the fields of the various schools involved.

In addition a Bay Area paper announced the tournament as being cancelled, to add further to the chaos.

Then it was officially announced that the tournament was on and play had been taking place all week.

The Acalanes Dons ended up in first place. Pittsburg and Pleasant Hill tied for second, while Las Lomas and Diablo tied for fourth. A toss of the coin decided that Acalanes was to meet Pittsburg at Acalanes last Tuesday, while Pleasant Hill played host to Diablo after Diablo won out over Las Lomas in a toss for the fourth spot.

All in all, it has been a merry week!

THE DONS' WINNING the championship was a surprise to many.

It was really hitting when it counted, plus good team morale, that did it.

Actually the clubs of the past four years were better able to win on the basis of experience and mature ability but lacked the spark that is necessary to win a pennant.

Running down the roster:

Both of this year's catchers, seniors, Andy Fadelli and Dick Jarrett, played junior varsity ball last year.

Junior Mike Barrett and senior Red Jones played varsity as pitchers last year and proved to be winners, as they received support and hitting when it was needed most.

Sophomore Jim Dinkel and junior Gary Williamson held down first base both coming up from the junior varsity.

Sophomore Ronnie Nelson and junior Don Babcock held down second base. Babcock didn't play last year and Ronnie won up from the J. V.

Senior Jerry Conkley played short and second. He was a regular second baseman in '54.

Sophomore Richard Markstein and junior Pete Villa both came up from the '54 Junior Varsity.

In center field Paul Miller, a senior, didn't play last season.

Senior Warren Johnson played as a varsity reserve last season and along with junior Alan Sutton, up from last year's J.V. club, held down left field.

In right field a half dozen different players were used, including sophomore John Cadwell, up from the J.V.'s. Tan Harman, another junior in his first year with the varsity, was an outfielder who had to drop out late in the season with a leg injury.

The main thing the team had was the desire to win, plus a good, all-around hitting average that topped the league.

MT. DIABLO HIGH proved not only to be the league's best, but tops in Northern California when they copped the North Coast title in the track meet held at Berkeley last Saturday.

Diablo is the third Contra Costa club to turn the trick in recent years, with Richmond and the Acalanes Dons taking it not long back.

The Dons placed a lone representative in George Coad, who placed in the pole vault and will compete tomorrow in the State Meet, to be held in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Track Coach Charles Eaton will accompany George while Stanley Walgren, principal of Acalanes will be present in the capacity of an official for the California Interscholastic Federation.

The North defeated the South for the first time in many a moon last year and has high hopes of repeating, on the basis of an unusual number of outstanding performers again this year.

California high schools hold a majority of the national prep marks, and a few more could fall by the wayside tomorrow.

Legion Baseball Teams Get Off to Busy Start in Action-Packed Weekend Games

More than 35 candidates have been working out in competition for the 16 spots on the Lafayette Legion baseball tam, and tomorrow will show just what the club can do in the way of competitive action.

In fact, it's a busy weekend, with games tomorrow, Sunday and Monday with the umpire calling "play ball!" at 2 p.m. each day.

Defensively, the club looks good, and at bat they hold promise.

THE BIG PROBLEM is in the pitching department.

Mike Barrett is ready, from varsity competition. Other than that, the hurling is a case of experimentation, with half a dozen possibilities.

The Legion League this year is an eight-team one, which is the largest in recent years, if not in history.

Antioch, Concord, El Cerrito, Lafayette, Martinez, Richmond, San Pablo and Walnut Creek are the clubs represented.

THE SCHEDULE for this weekend is as follows:

Tomorrow—Antioch at Concord, El Cerrito at Lafayette, Martinez at Richmond, San Pablo at Walnut Creek.

Sunday—Lafayette at Antioch, Richmond at Concord, Walnut Creek at El Cerrito, San Pablo at Martinez.

Monday—Antioch at Richmond, Lafayette at Walnut Creek, Concord at San Pablo, El Cerrito at Martinez.

North Coast's Swim Title Won By Santa Clara

The power-laden Santa Clara swimming team stroked its way to the North Coast swim title last Saturday when its mermen rolled up 39 points at their home pool, where the meet was held.

Palo Alto trailed with 38 points, while Hayward was in the show spot with 34.

In tht Bees it was Tamalpais High with 35, Palto Alto with 32 and Drake of Marin County, 24.

GEORGE HARRISON of Acalanes took the 200-yard free style event with a record-setting 1:59. The old mark was 2:01.

Tim Freeman took a point for the Dons with a sixth in the 100-yard backstroke.

Charles Knobel took second in the 100-yard freestyle, representing the Dons.

Darrell Heinrich set a new time of :53.9 in a heat race taking the final in :59.

ACALANES ALSO took the 200-yard freestyle relay with a winning time of 1:41.7.

Albany and John Swett were the only other schools in the Diablo Valley League to place in the varsity division.

Ram, Knight Swim Teams Split Meet

In a dual swimming meet at the Las Lomas pool May 11 the Pleasant Hill Rams defeated the Las Lomas Knights 43-32 in varsity competition, while in the Bee division the Knights copped a lopsided 53-11 win.

The varsity meet was a thriller, with the final two events deciding the issue.

Going into the relays the score was 36-27 in favor of the Rams.

WHEN THE Las Lomas medley relay team took the event, it meant that victory rested on the free-style relay.

Pleasant Hill's team, composed of Bob Ritchie, Chuck Van Ummersen, Gary Soderer and Russ Hutchins, stopped the clocks at 1:50.1, to win the final event and with it the meet.

BOB DATHE of the Rams, up from the Bees, proved to be a surprise when he took the varsity breaststroke and the individual medley.

In the Bees the only first place winner for the Rams was Te Selle, who took the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:26.

Lucas Ranch Sold To W.C. Developer

The 156-acre Lucas Ranch near the Glenside area has been sold to Garthwick, Incorporated, of Walnut Creek.

The sale was consummated this week, according to J. T. Lucas, executor of the Lucas estate, and Phil Greer, president of Garthwick, Incorporated.

SALE TERMS were not disclosed.

Greer told The Sun that the Chaney Construction Company will build some 100 houses on the acreage within the next year.

Work on the first unit of 57 houses should begin in about a month, Greer added.

The ranch has been owned by the Luacs family since 1902, when it was purchased by Antonio A. Lucas, who died in September, 1953.

J. T. LUCAS, Walnut Creek Studebaker and Packard dealer, said he and four of the other six Lucas children were born and raised on the ranch.

The ranch has been the center of cattle grazing activity in recent years.

Local Heart Doctors Attend Convention

Dr. Mary L. Eilert of Walnut Creek, president of the Contra Costa County Heart Association, announced that Mrs. Loyse Casebolt and Dr. Harold S. Robinson represented the county at the Pacific and Rocky Mountain area regional meeting of the American Heart Association.

Joining with the delegates from Heart Associations in Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Washington will be representatives of the American Heart Association and of the United States Public Health Service, as well as leading area specialists in the rheumatic fever field.

The aim of the campaign is to make rheumatic fever a rare disease through prompt and adequate treatment of the streptococcal infections which touch off both initial and repeat attacks.

Christian Science

That divine healing casts out evli and restores harmony on the basis of God's unfailing power and goodness will be stated at services Sunday in Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will include the account of healing as recorded in The Acts of the Apostles (5:12 to;,16):

"And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; . . . There came also a multitude out of the cities round about Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one."

Also stressing the practical power of Christian healing is the following passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did 19 centuries ago" (495:1-3).

Orindan Injured In Car Crash

Albert L. Hammill of 23 Valley Drive, Orinda, was injured when his car crashed headon into another car at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The mishap occured on Acalanes Road about 120 feet south of Legion Court.

Hammill was taken to the Walnut Creek Kaiser Foundation Hospital by a Pomeroy ambulance from Walnut Creek. Authorities at the hospital said Hammill was released the same evening after treatment.

According to the county office of the California Highway Patrol, Hammill's car, coming around a curve, struck a car driven by Milton E. Ulvi of 38 Vista Lane, Walnut Creek.

The patrol said Hammill's car then struck a car driven by Anthony C. Alvey of Pacheco.

A citation is pending against Hammill for driving at an unsafe speed and for driving on the wrong side of the road, the patrol said.

For Both Fun and Safety — Kids Should Learn to Swim

Summery weather brings thoughts of swimming to mind, in as natural a sequence as could possibly be found.

For swimming is a wonderful sport.

In fact, swimming has been described as about the best exercise a person can perform. It develops various parts of the body, it aids poise and control — and it's relaxing.

But important as these facts are, there is another aspect of swimming which assumes for greater significance.

That is the safety aspect of swimming — or what might properly be called its life-saving aspect.

For, in addition to being an enjoyable sport, swimming can be the means for the saving of life.

That's why all parents should be urged to see that their children learn to swim.

In this area, swimming lessons for youngsters are convenient.

The Red Cross program of summer swimming lessons for children is one method of teaching. It's a popular and well-established method.

And these Red Cross swimming lessons are representative of part of your investment in the Mt. Diablo Red Cross Chapter. The funds contributed by Central Contra Costa County people make these lessons possible.

Another avenue of swimming lessons is provided by the many private instructors throughout this area.

Whatever way is used, learning to swim should be a "must" for everyone. And we all know that it's easier to learn to swim when one is young than later — although that old saying, "It's never too late to learn," is particularly applicable.

So, parents, make sure that your children have double-fun activity in the water this summer — fun for sport, and fun in learning to be expert swimmers.

The water's fine!

'Bicycle Riders — Keep to the Right'

"Bicycle riders keep to the right."

This traffic rule was one of several emphasized this week by Captain R. Magill of the California Highway Patrol.

"Bicyclists must ride with the traffic, not against it," declared Captain Magill.

THIS IS A BASIC rule and one that is frequently violated."

Other rules for safe bicycling were listed as:

1. One person on a bicycle unless it is built for two.
2. Ride single file and in as straight a line as possible.
3. USE HAND and arm signals when turning.
4. Do not hitch on any other vehicle.
5. Save your stunt riding for other than the public roadway.

Answers Indicate A Quiet Holiday

Memorial Day, 1955, is coming up Monday.

Although the day always has its somber overtones (for it is a time set aside to honor the memory of the dead), there are obvious happy aspetc, too.

PRIMARILY,THE DAY, in its brighter view, is this: It's a day of rest on the threshold of summer, and the flags and the flowers seem to close the door on winter for good.

For many, the day will mean visits to the graves of their beloved friends and relatives. For others, it will mean a quiet trip to church or a peaceful respite at home.

Mrs. Stanley G. Ledin of 43 Grandview Place, Walnut Creek, was quick to inform us, "We're going to stay off the highways! We'll have a nice party right here at home."

Of the same feeling was Mrs. Herald E. Griffith of 841 Hawthorne Drive, Walnut Creek, who felt that, "The children will enjoy more staying home and playing in the play area we have."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. White of 301 Soule Avenue, Pleasant Hill, plan to go fishing in the mountains. "It's up by Sonora. Friends of ours who live up there tell us there's wonderful trout to be had. It will be thrilling to go," exclaimed Mrs. White.

"Saturday and Sunday we'll stay home; there's too much traffic on the road. But on Memorial Day the family plans to go to the swimming show at our Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton," said Mrs. William H. Wright of 154 Cleopatra Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"We usually don't wander far from home on Memorial Day," said Mrs. Stanley W. Nightingale when asked how she and her family planned to spend the day. Mrs. Nightingale, of 41 Charles Hill Road, Orinda, added that the family would probably attend church services.

MRS. L. W. GOOD of 119 Estates Drive, Orinda, answered, "I think we'll spend it at home. My husband is an airline pilot and we rarely know much in adavnce what his schedule will be."

The R. Bruce Stringers of 3196 Acalanes Avenue, Lafayette, plan to spend the day in work around home. Mrs. Stringer said, "We're (my husband, mainly) going to finish fixing the swimming pool if we can."

"We seldom go anywhere on holidays," answered Mrs. John E. Anderson of 3291 Walnut Lane, Lafayette. "With a new baby, it's almost impossible to get away . . . we will probably have a picnic in the yard, though."

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Pacific Intermountain Express is using two arguments to convince the people of Orinda that they should open this rural residential community to national industrial office buildings:

1. PIE will ease the taxes we pay.
2. Orinda cannot afford to buy the Pine Grove land and build a Town Center as the need arises.

A RECENT LETTER mailed to all Orinda residents by PIE makes some interesting tax claims which which bear careful analysis.

On page 6, Mrs. C. E. Johnson says that "taxpayers relief" to the county will be afforded by taxes in the amount of $20,400 annually plus a possible matching sum in vehicle licenses taxes.

"This could mean a reduction of $8 or more annually in the taxes of the county resident and somewhat more than half that amount to Orinda residents," he says.

I HAVE CHECKED this with both the assessor's office and the auditor's office.

They advise me that this claim could not be valid.

There are approximately 125,000 tax bills issued annually. Conservatively, there are over 100,000 individual taxpayers.

EVEN IF THE total $40,800 were divided among these taxpayers it could not possibly mean "a reduction of $8 or more annually in the taxes of the coutny resident and somewhat more than half that amount to Orinda residents."

It comes to only 32 cents if the entire sum was divided countywide, which of coulrse it would not be anyway, since an Orinda resident would get more than would a home owner in Pleasant Hill for example.

It seems incredible that a company such as PIE would send out such extravagant claims to every Orinda resident, claims which simple arithmetic belie.

SECONDLY, we are told that Orinda cannot afford to form a community services district and buy the Pine Grove.

Such implications by the PIE proponents ignore the research done by a public administration analyst at the University of California who points out that at an annual cost of $1.32 per capita, Orinda could buy the Pine Grove under eminent domain proceedings and build the initial Town Center buildings thereon.

Mr. Johnson says, "PIE's entire approach in this matter has been motivated by a sense of fair play. We want to give you all the facts."

I agree with Bernard Baruch when he says, "Every man has a right to his own opinion, but no man has a right to be wrong about the facts."

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

The snafu in the recent "yellow" alert should not have been surprising. In light of what happened to "survival city" that same week, we should now come to some conclusion on the wisdom and psychological effects of civiilian defense.

1. There is no protection, to speak of, against the present full-scale H-Bomb, and very little protection against the conventional A-bomb. The conflicting statements of civil defense "authorities" only adds to the confusion and fear in single family units all over America.

2. Since there is not a plan available in the H-Bomb age, to protect the civilian population, it is in the interests of truth and honesty to ourselves to speak out for negotiation and numberless talks which will probably result in some favorable compromise for all nations and people concerned.

This, needless to add, is a worldwide problem! It is ridiculous to plan a "defense" for one city or county even though there would be a state and federal coordinator. The bomb is just too immense in its destructiveness.

Tom Kendall.

(Editor's note: The following letter regarding the Civil Defense identification tag program has been sent to school officials in the county by Lester Clark, assistant director of the county's Civil Defense and Disaster Council. Clark furnished a copy to The Sun).

To: Contra Costa County school superintendents and principals:

We offer the following explanation of the Civil Defense identification tag program to clarify certain misconceptions regarding the program and the Pet Milk Company's relationship to it.

FOR SEVERAL YEARS the Federal Civil Defense Administration and the California State Office of Civil Defense have stressed the importance of identification tags, and urged that communities instigate such a program.

Unfortunately, the always limited Federal and State Civil Defense budgets haven't allowed for the millions necessary for an overall program.

Recently the Pet Milk Company offered to cooperate with the Federal Civil Dfense Administration wide on an at-cost basis, as a part and make the tags available nationof their public relations program. The necessary equipment and organization has cost in excess of three million dollars.

FEDERAL CIVIL Defense Administration's aim is to tag every man, woman and child in the United States. FCDA is sponsoring this program. The State Office of Civil Defense has approved it, as has the Contra Costa County Defense and Disaster Council. The sub-councils of Contra Costa County are sponsoring these tags, and in areas where sub-councils exist, will make every effort to assist the schools.

This office, with its limited staff, is unable to do the necessary detail work. We suggest that you seek the cooperation of your PTA or Parents Clubs in securing these tags for not only the students in your school, but all members of their families as well.

This is not a commercial enterprise but a public service on a national leel. We in Contra Costa County are expected to participate in this important endeavor.

This Office and the Ceel Defense volunteers in our sub-councils will greatly appreciate the important role you can play in making this project a success.

Lester E. Clark.

Political science and teeth

I have just learned a lesson in political science.

A week ago Tuesday I read a news story from Sacramento stating that the Senate Public Health and Safety Committee had approved a bill authorizing the East Bay Municipal Utility District to fluoridate our water supply on approval of TWO-THIRDS of the voters at an election.

"Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle (R., Lafayette), author of the Assembly-approved measure, inserted the two-thirds vote requirement to meet what he called objections to the bill," the AP reported.

What, ho, there is sabotage in Sacramento, I said to myself.

You may recall that the purpose of this legislation was to clarify EBMUD's position on fluoridation. The Utility District declares it cannot fluoridate our water to save our kids' teeth because of legal liability and technicalities. EBMUD's stand is supported by the Legislative Council, who says that legislative clarification is needed.

However, the Attorney General of the State of California has issued a formal opinion that EBMUD has all the powers to fluoridate our water tomorrow — without any further action by any one and without danger of legal liability. An election is not even necessary; a vote only advises EBMUD directors how the people feel.

In any event, EBMUD refused to even consider fluoridation until legislation was passed, so Don Doyle and EBMUD attorneys prepared the bill. This is permissive legislation — permits EBMUD to hold an election — nothing mandatory.

Now — what happened:

Well, now let's get back to Sacramento. Doyle's bill easily passed the Assembly. Then, the Senate Public Health Committee started chopping it up — coming out with the two-thirds vote requirement.

The next day I called Don in Sacramento. He said the fluoridation opponents had concentrated on the nine Senators and were able to push four amendments that were all most harmful to the fluoridation cause. The committee hearing was packed with an anti-fluoridation audience and the committee gave Don just one-half hour to support the bill.

Don explained the committee wanted to kill the bill and was doing so with the four ammendments. To save the bill, Don said he agreed to the two-thirds vote amendment in exchange for killing three other amendments

The reason I called him was because I thought the two-thirds vote requirement did more harm to the EBMUD fluoridation cause than no bill at all.

Should the bill be killed?

Don answered that my analysis might be correct and perhaps the entire bill should be killed. He said he would think it over. I said I would contact some fluoridation leaders for their opinion.

I phoned one of the key leaders and expressed the opinion the bill should be killed and what did he think?

The wheels began to whirl, after this leader went to work. Later he phoned me to say that the opinion of the Dental Society, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Parent-Teachers Association and public health officials was to kill the bill. This opinion was dispatched to Sacramento.

Tuesday night I read a dispatch from Sacramento saying the bill was sent to the "inactive file" by its supporters.

"Sponsors of the legislation said an ammendment added to the bill in the Senate Public Health Committee made the legislation too restrictive and undesirable." the report added.

Use the majority rule

The two-thirds requirement was certainly undesirable. Our democratic system is founded on majority rule; almost every major election is based on a majority vote. The two-thirds deal was designed to throttle the bill. And it did.

Incidentally, I mentioned to Don that the UP had quoted him as saying he was against fluoridation. Don answered they were in error. He had previously indicated his approval of fluoridation.

Well, folks, there is our pol sci lecture for this week.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

In your "Under the Sun" column on May 13, 1955, some statements were made regarding the sheriff's attempt to discharge Deputy George Burton and his attempts to suspend Deputies Lionel Shepherd and Earl Falkenstrom. Some of the statements made in your column are quite inaccurate. Since my name was used, I feel that I should set the record straight.

In the case of George Burton, the statement is made that the Civil Serice Commission concluded that most of the charges against Burton were well-founded, but that the sheriff could not fire him because he had not been previously reprimanded. The Civil Service Commission made no such finding.

Many of the charges against George Burton were not only not well-founded, but had no evidence to support them. The contention of Sheriff Brown that Burton was doing outside radio repair work was something which Burton conceded.

MOREOVER, it should be pointed out that in Burton's case the order of the commission was reached without a single witness being called on Burton's behalf . . .

In the cases of Shepherd and Falkenstrom, they were suspended for allegedly taking too much time off for coffee breaks. The undisputed evidence before the commission was that Shepherd and Falkenstrom were acting in this respect exactly the same as every other deputy sheriff patrolman.

As a matter of fact, Falkenstrom testified that several years ago when he and Sheriff Brown were patrolling together they made coffee stops in precisely the same way as he and Shepherd were doing.

WE CONTENDED that Shepherd incurred Brown's displeasure because he was the only deputy to refuse to sign an order agreeing not to do any outside work. Shepherd, who has a wife and five children, runs a small bicycle repair shop in Concord, and he has refused to give it up.

Falkenstrom, as an official of the Deputy Sheriffs Association, publicly opposed some of Brown's reorganization of the sheriff's office.

Falkenstrom and Shepherd's testimony that Brown was out "to get Shepherd" was completely undisputed, since Sheriff Brown did not even testify at the hearing before the Civil Serice Commission . . .

IT IS ALSO interesting to note that in all three cases the disciplinary orders were served upon the deputies and thereafter investigations were conducted by the sheriff's office in an effort to obtain evidence to support the disciplinary orders . . .

The implication in your column that the Civil Service Commission is unfair to Brown is also without justification.

The Civil Service Commission is composed of five community leaders, four of them successful business men, and one an official in a trade union. They are men who serve without compensation and perform a thankless and difficult task. They are certainly not part of the "entrenched forces" in the county, whatever that means, and they enjoy a fine reputation for honesty and integrity.

THE FINAL statement that George Gordon and I appeared as counsel without fee is, of course, ridiculous. We were paid a fee in the Burton matter, and I, personally, billed Falkenstrom and Shepherd for our services in their case.

They understood that we were not volunteering our services, but that we were being hired as lawyers, which is, of course, the way we earn our living.

I quite frequently give free legal advice and free legal services to people who cannot afford to pay. I have not and will not give any blanket notice to deputy sheriffs that my services are available without cost in the event that Sheriff Brown undertakes discipline in other cases . . .

Dear Editor:

It has come to our attention that certain civic leaders in the Orinda-Lafayette area are said to have been stating that the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association has opposed the establishment of an office building by Pacific Intermountain Express Company in Orinda and a controlled manufacturing zone in the Moraga Valley.

It should be understood that the board of directors of the Taxpayers Association has taken no position in regard to either of these issues and does not intend to take a position.

The directors have, however, recently passed a resolution of county-wide application recommending to the County Planning Commission the establishment of controlled manufacturing zones adjacent to areas which will be planned as primarily residential.
